Final BULLETINS

Seeks Aid of U.S. In Banning Japs

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayor J. W. Cornett said today he is drafting plans calling for international support of a campaign for postwar deportation of all Japanese residents of the Pacific coast. He intends to ask the executive of the Canadian Conference of Mayors and Municipalities to ratify a repatriation resolution and send it to the United States Conference of Mayors for endorsement.

Most Fish Since 1913

VANCOUVER (CP)—Maj. J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries for this area, said today indications are that Fraser River salmon fishermen this year will make their biggest haul since 1913.

Oil Train Burns

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md. (AP)—Twenty-eight railroad tank cars loaded with fuel oil burned today in a sea of flames after 33 cars of an estimated 80-car Baltimore and Ohio railroad train were derailed.

Iceland Bombed

REYKJAVIK (AP)—A German plane dropped two bombs this morning near the village of Raufarhofn, northeastern Iceland, the U.S. army announced this afternoon.

Two Icelanders were "knocked down by concussion, but apparently were not seriously injured."

Largest Bomber Visits Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—A sample of the world's largest bombing plane roared off in the direction of Toronto this afternoon following a brief visit to Ottawa.

The giant Lancaster, one of the planes now used in the long-range bombing of Germany from Britain, crossed the Atlantic last week.

It is armed with 10 guns. Its wing span is 102 feet.

F.D.R. Lauds Poles

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt, in a message of encouragement to Poland on this third anniversary of Germany's attack on that country, this afternoon praised the fortitude and spirit of the fighting Poles and voiced assurance in final victory for all oppressed peoples.

The message was addressed to President Wladyslaw Rackiewicz and delivered to him in London.

Retail Sales Up

OTTAWA (CP)—Retail sales in Canadian department stores during July were 10 per cent higher than in the same month last year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported this afternoon, but declined 20 per cent from June.

Sales during the first seven months of this year averaged 14 per cent higher than in the corresponding period in 1941.

Taking Precautions For Polio Here

Dr. Richard Felton, Victoria medical health officer, said today the city and provincial health officers were familiar with the whole situation as regards to infantile paralysis and were taking the necessary precautions.

Two boys were admitted to hospital in Vancouver at the weekend as poliomyelitis suspects and Dr. Stewart Murry, Vancouver's medical health officer, today warned parents to keep their children from public beaches, bathing pools or other crowded places.

Two infantile paralysis cases were reported in Vancouver last week.

Had Defence Sketch

VANCOUVER (CP)—A sketch of a British Columbia military area, described as "usable for enemy action," was examined by Police Magistrate H. St. Wood this afternoon as the principal exhibit in the prosecution of Gunner Ken Davies, Royal Canadian Artillery, and his wife, Mrs. Kay Davies, under the Defence of Canada Regulations.

Stalingrad Holds, Nazis Give Ground

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—The Red Army held back the growing German pincers push against Stalingrad from the northwest and southwest for the sixth day today and apparently won the initiative in bloody engagements on several other fronts.

Field dispatches said tank detachments were battling in the corridor between the Don and the Volga and the Soviet armored crews were holding their own, disabling many of the invasion machines.

Hundreds of tanks and bombers screened manoeuvres by large invasion forces northwest of the Volga River city, where German vanguards had been swept from a strategic zone by week-end counterattacks.

The Germans struck hard also southwest of Stalingrad in the sector officially designated as "northeast of Koteinikovsk," the Nazi-held rail town 95 miles south of the city.

Expand Holdings By Crossing River

Russia's central front troops expanded their holdings by forcing a river crossing Sunday and fought on with the Germans in the street of Rzhev, 130 miles northwest of Moscow.

The Soviet information bureau's midday communique said there were no material changes at the front overnight.

Ped army bombers pounded Berlin and other cities of central and eastern Germany Saturday night. The government announced 48 fires and nine heavy explosions were set off in the Nazi capital. (See story page 2.)

The Baltic ports of Koenigsberg, in East Prussia, Danzig and Stettin were other targets and a total of 43 fires and a dozen explosions were reported. From those thrusts the government said all bombers returned.

Moreover, it was declared 498 German planes were destroyed during the last week, against a Russian loss of 206.

(The German high command was quoted in a Berlin broadcast as saying powerful Soviet blows west of Moscow had gained some ground, but the defences of Stalingrad were deeply pierced and the Germans maintained their gains in the western Caucasus, despite difficult terrain.

Nazis Say Russians Use Tank Pillboxes

(A Nazi news agency dispatch said the Russians had towed several hundred unpainted and mortarless tanks from Stalingrad assembly lines to emplace them as pillboxes on the steppes outside the city, itself described as "a veritable fortress.")

While as many as 700 German tanks were reported stalled in the Don-Volga corridor area for lack of fuel, Russian marines and armed peasants joined Soviet soldiers in defence of Stalingrad.

Marshal Timoshenko's men forced the invaders from a community northwest of Stalingrad in house-to-house fighting which left hundreds of German casualties in the streets and also regained nearby hills, "thus obtaining a commanding position over the whole locality," the Moscow radio announced.

NEW HEAD OF CBC—Dr. James S. Thomson, president of the University of Saskatchewan and a member of the board of governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, has been named to succeed Gladstone Murray as general manager of the corporation.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst
Allies Inc. took down their shutters for business this morning with prospects not quite so blue-Mondayish as usual, which is a cautiously-backed way of recording that things looked a bit brighter—and this was true both in the crucial European theatre and in the Orient.

Not that there has been any big swing of fortune, but there are signs the Axis powers are beginning to feel the strain of the fierce pace they've been maintaining in their effort to achieve victory this year, because the Allied strike power becomes too great. Into this picture, of course, fits the steadily-growing strength of the United Nations.

Now please don't misunderstand me. We are not to jump to the conclusion the enemy are on the point of breaking up, or anything of the sort. Our dangers are terribly great in the face of Germany and Japan. Either or both of them may be preparing great fresh offensives as this is written.

SYMPTOMS SEEN

Still, the signs of strain undoubtedly are there. And that strain is the symptom which points to coming exhaustion.

That to my mind is the most important development in this fierce race against time. The Allies' hopes of winning without having to wage an interminable war of attrition depend largely on their ability to hold the master gangster on the Russian front during the few remaining weeks until winter comes to stall him. This means that much hangs on how long the Hitlerites can keep up the terrific speed they've shown thus far—a rate which couldn't be carried on indefinitely by any fighting machine.

Moscow reports a continuation of the remarkable hardening of the Soviet defence. The Russians are holding on the vital southern front, while farther up the line they actually are maintaining their smashing offensive against the Nazis northwest of the capital.

While this stiffening of Russian resistance is due in part to their own stout spirit, probably coupled with the employment of reserves held for eventualities, yet I believe we must attribute a good deal of the change to a natural weakening of the Nazi offensive. There's nothing strange in this, for the endurance which the Germans have displayed in their great drive has already exceeded the expectations of many observers.

COMMUNICATIONS STRAINED

Several things are working against the Nazis at this stage: 1. Their fighting forces are increasingly feeling the physical strain of this unprecedented offensive.

2. Their communications must be getting into sad state, being greatly over-extended, and their transport in the recently-captured territory being dependent on war-torn highways and broken-down railways, which have the wide Russian gauge, that doesn't fit German rolling stock.

3. Their war industry at home is slipping, partly because of deterioration of machinery which can't be replaced, partly because of lack of skilled workers, and partly because of shortage of raw materials. We have fresh evidence of this in the known shortage of German warplanes and a scarcity of gasoline which the Russians report is so bad as to have stalled a large number of tanks in one sector.

Has Hitler the strength to smash Russia before he himself collapses? That's the crux of the matter, and indications are that he hasn't.

WHERE BATTLE SWINGS IN FAVOR OF UNITED NATIONS—Milne Bay is the linchpin at the extreme southeastern tip of New Guinea.

New Successes for Allies

Aussies Wiping Out Japs at Milne Bay; Chinese Extend Gains
Disaster at the hands of Allied forces striking with irresistible might stalled the Japanese today on every front of the Pacific war. These blows, falling on the enemy's hard-won outposts from the swampy shores of Milne Bay on New Guinea to the battlefronts of China and the air front of Burma, slashed at the whole fabric of the enemy's scheme of aggression.

With a cunning expensively learned from the Japanese themselves in the lost battle of Malaya, Australian ground forces baited a trap on Milne Bay into which an enemy landing force apparently has stumbled to its destruction.

A special communique issued at Australian headquarters said today the unwary Japanese on Milne Bay, at the southeastern tip of Papua, were being "rapidly reduced."

Japs Wade Ashore Into Hail of Fire

Ashore into the waiting muzzles of Australian troops lying in wait for just such an enemy attempt to outflank the Allied outpost some 225 miles around the island coast at Port Moresby.

Previous communiques had announced the high cost in ships, men, planes and supplies, which the Japanese were able even to land on the marshy, crocodile-infested shore.

Now, it unfolds, all that they are likely to save are the shock troops which they have managed to get back off the island to their ships.

The other men, the communiques said, are swiftly being cut down on a narrow peninsula north of the bay by Australian troops under Maj. Gen. Cyril Clowes, and they have lost all of the heavy supplies—including tanks—which they landed so confidently on the narrow beach last Wednesday.

Backed by American airpower in growing might and widening range of operation, Gen. Chiang Kai-shek's ground troops have carried China's fight deeper into enemy-held territory.

The Chinese high command announced retreating Japanese forces have been pursued to the outskirts of Nanchang, which the invaders have held for more than two years and fitted out as their principal base in Kiangsi province.

In Chekiang province, meanwhile, Chinese reports said that Lungyu, 20 miles east of the great air base site of Chushien, had been retaken after a heavy night fight. Lanchi, 20 miles northwest of Lungyu and on the 450-mile Chekiang-Kiangsi railroad, also was reported back in Chinese possession.

Hold 350 Miles Of Railway

Thus, the Chinese have recaptured almost 350 miles of the rail line and, pulling an important triumph out of what seemed to be grave peril, virtually have eradicated Japan's summer gains in Chekiang and Kiangsi.

At Lashio, junction of the railroad from Rangoon and the Burma road to Chungking, a communique said, fighter-escorted U.S. bombers scored 32 hits in the airport area Saturday, "many hits" in the warehouse area and left fires burning in both.

Meanwhile, United States marines sat tight in the Solomon Islands, consolidating their hold and picking off the last remnants of resistance on the islands.

Steel Strike Delayed, 'Germans' Tie Soldier to Track

By FRASER MACDOUGALL

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP)—Work stoppages scheduled for 11 tonight in steel plants here and at Sydney, N.S., have been postponed, pending outcome of a conference in Ottawa tomorrow between officials of the United Steel Workers of America and Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Federal Labor Minister, it was announced here today.

The announcement was made by C. H. Millard, national director of the U.S.W.A., following a four-hour conference this morning with members of a special committee of the Sault union to consider a telegram from Mr. Mitchell asking for the conference in an effort to settle the wage disputes in which the Sault and Sydney steel workers are asking a basic labor wage rate of 55 cents an hour.

NO PLANS YET

Earlier, at Sydney, James Nicholson, secretary of the Sydney local of the U.S.W.A., said any strike of steel workers at the two plants had been "postponed" pending a conference at Ottawa between Mr. Millard and the labor minister.

(Following Mr. Nicholson's announcement, Labor Department officials at Ottawa said no definite arrangements had yet been completed for a conference between Mr. Millard and the labor minister but it was considered likely it would be held unless conditions were changed by events today. It was learned also at Ottawa that Mr. Mitchell had been in conversation with Philip Murray, president of the C.I.O., with which the U.S.W.A. is affiliated, but no details were revealed.)

Steel workers in the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation plant at Sydney, N.S., and in the Algoma Steel Corporation plant at Sault Ste. Marie had been prepared to cease working at 11 o'clock tonight if operators had failed to meet their demands for wage increases.

REQUESTED BY MINISTER

Millard, who had been granted authority to order the strikes by union votes at both places, agreed to the meeting Tuesday at request of the Labor Minister.

Sunday night, George Macneil, president of the local U.S.W.A. branch, had said "we are just waiting for the word" to order a walkout of the 3,700 men working in the big steel plant here.

'Germans' Tie Soldier to Track

RED DEER, Alta. (CP)—Pte. B. Schweigert, 30, who escaped almost certain death by inches Saturday night when a keen-eyed railway engineer halted a freight train within a few inches of his body, told police today he had been bound hand and foot and left on the tracks by two German-speaking men who sought to "pump" him regarding details of the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps camp here. Police are investigating.

W. Barrett, engineer of the northbound C.P.R. freight train, said his headlight picked out an object on the tracks and he applied his brakes in time to halt the train within a few inches of Schweigert's body. The soldier was unconscious from shock. His feet had been wired to one track, his body lying clear of the steel.

Schweigert told police he struck up acquaintance with the two men in Red Deer Saturday night. He said they offered to drive him to camp, but once they were in an automobile they headed in the opposite direction and asked him questions about the camp that he refused to answer. One of them, he said, stuck a gun in his back.

He claimed he heard the two men talk German before they moved away. He is in a hospital here for observation.

Permit Required To Seek New Job

By JACK WILLIAMS

OTTAWA (CP)—Tightened employment regulations which provide compulsory employment for persons now unemployed were announced today by Labor Minister Mitchell and Elliott M. Little, director of National Selective Service.

Under these orders, which become effective at midnight tonight, Selective Service officers are enabled to approach any person in an effort to induce him to take more essential work than that which they now are performing.

Four main points listed in the joint announcement were:

1. No employer may dismiss any worker and no worker may leave any job without giving seven days' notice in writing.
2. No person may seek employment and no employer may hire or interview with the intention to hire any person unless the person holds a permit to seek employment.
3. No person capable of working may remain voluntarily unemployed and any person not working full time for a period of two weeks or more can be ordered to take full time suitable work.
4. All employers must report to employment and Selective Service offices their future labor needs and must fill their current needs, through the employment office.

Government Intends To Mobilize Manpower

The labor minister explained the policy as making effective the government's intention "completely to mobilize the manpower of the Dominion."

The orders followed a nationwide broadcast by Prime Minister Mackenzie King Aug. 19 in which he said: "The government's policy is that every man and woman capable of performing some form of war service should undertake the service for which he or she may be best qualified and which the demands of war require."

Mr. Little postponed until a subsequent conference, expected within two weeks, questions on the call-up and deferment of men for the armed forces which comes under his jurisdiction in a reorganization of government departments.

Plan Succeeds In Great Britain

In placing the joint statement before a group of newspapermen Mr. Mitchell said the general plan which Canada was adopting to utilize her manpower for war needs had proved effective in Great Britain and should prove equally effective in Canada.

Advice of local committees representing employers, employees, agricultural and other national groups would be sought in making the new orders effective, the minister said.

Mr. Little told the newspapermen that in providing compulsory employment for those not working only part time or not at all, the government was acting on the principle that "voluntary unemployment is something we cannot afford."

Compulsion applies to persons now unemployed or on part time jobs, but not to efforts of selective service officers to have workers move to more essential jobs.

Same Rates of Pay To Apply to New Jobs

An effort will be made to arrange transfers so that men will not be asked to go to jobs with a lower wage rate than that which they now receive, but provision is made in the new orders for supplementary allowance.

A national selective service officer may arrange for payment of the cost of transportation of workers, their dependents and effects when it is considered necessary. A supplementary living allowance of not more than $5 a week may also be paid if the worker is separated from his family and earning capacity on the new job is insufficient to pay increased costs or if the new job involves a decrease in his weekly earnings.

The regulations clarify temporary employment of agricultural labor on other jobs during off-seasons. It is permissible for an agricultural worker to take another job for a period up to 30 days without losing his status as eligible for postponement from call-up. Permits are required if he is to be away from the farm for more than 30 days.

It is the desire of selective service officials that farmers should get off the farm and undertake other war work in periods when farm work is not sufficient to keep them busy, Mr. Little said.

Priority Schedule For All Employment

For all employment, permits will be granted by selective service officers on the basis of a priority schedule which has been established by selective service in close collaboration with the Munitions and Supply Department and the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. This schedule will not be made public because of the constant revisions which are anticipated as requirements fluctuate.

Increased control over manpower involves the acceptance of greater responsibilities by employers as well as employees, the announcement said.

"It is important now that every employer realize that he must notify his local employment and selective service office of his labor needs as fast as they are anticipated," the statement continued.

"Substantial increase in staff and in the number of offices have been made to facilitate the allocation of labor and from now on no excuse will be accepted from employers for any disregard of the order that they obtain all employees through these offices. "As the supply of labor decreases, employers must be prepared to make greater use of women, to use their labor more efficiently and to expect curtailment of certain less essential lines of industry...."

Information From Employers

"In planning the best use of our available manpower, much information will be required. When employers receive requests for information they should bear in mind that it is required to provide them with the men and women they need. They will shortly be asked to file returns giving the numbers of their employees and broad occupational groups and from time to time they may be requested to give other information."

No age limits are mentioned in the regulations which appeared today in a special edition of the Canada Gazette. Selective service officials said they apply to every employable person.

The regulations will not affect the employment of harvest help, which comes under a provision enabling workers to take temporary work for not more than 30 days.

LOCAL ADMINISTRATOR

C. A. Mudge, manager of the Employment and Claims Office of the Unemployment Insurance Commission at 532 Broughton Street, will have charge of the administration of the new national selective service regulations for all Vancouver Island south of Chemainus. The Nanaimo office of the commission will have charge of the remainder of the island.

Hitler Ousts List

LONDON (CP)—The Italian radio said today Field Marshal Wilhelm Siegmund List has been replaced as German commander-in-chief in the Balkans by Col. Gen. Alexander Loehr.

Reports to London indicated the field marshal was transferred from that field after writing Hitler to criticize present operations and warn against another winter campaign in Soviet Russia. Dispatches from Ankara three weeks ago said List was reported in command of an army concentrated on the Soviet front near Moscow for another drive at the capital.

U.S. Dedicated To Beat Tyrants, Says Roosevelt

BETHESDA, Md. (AP)—President Roosevelt dedicated a monumental new naval hospital here today with an assertion that the United States was wholly dedicated to the defeat of German, Italian, and Japanese tyrants and "to the removal from this earth of the injustices and inequalities which create such tyrants and breed new wars."

He spoke from a platform in front of the white, 270-foot-high section of the new naval medical center and the radio carried his words to all parts of the world by short wave.

"Let this hospital then stand," he said, "for all men to see throughout the years, as a monument to our determination to work and to fight until the time comes when the human race shall have that true health in body and mind and spirit which can be realized only in a climate of equity and faith."

Participating in the program by radio were U.S. navy men stationed in Iceland, Northern Ireland, Panama and Hawaii.

Mr. Roosevelt, declaring Pearl Harbor contained "the darkest hour in our navy's history," said that in the months without victories that followed enemies taunted us with the question, "Where is the United States navy?"

Those enemies know today the beginning of the answer, the President said.

They learned in the Atlantic, in the Coral Sea and off Midway, he said, and they are learning now in their attempts to recapture lost areas in the Solomon Islands.

"The navy, he asserted, is where it has always been—"In there fighting," and carrying out the command "To hit our enemy, and hit him again, wherever, and whenever we find him."

Hon. Rolf W. Bruhn's Death Widely Mourned

Hon. Rolf Wallgren Bruhn, 63, B.C. Minister of Public Works, died unexpectedly Sunday at his Vancouver home.

He had not been in good health for some months, having suffered heart attacks shortly after he entered the Hart coalition government last December, but he had carried on his duties and traveled extensively throughout the province. He returned from the interior to the coast Saturday, and was expected at his office in the Parliament Buildings today.

Legislative circles were plunged in sorrow when news of Mr. Bruhn's death was learned, for he had been one of the most popular and able cabinet ministers in B.C.'s history. Cabinet ministers, headed by Premier John Hart, made plans to attend their colleague's funeral in Vancouver tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. The entire cabinet will then accompany the minister's remains to Sicamous where burial will take place.

The story of Mr. Bruhn's life reads like a saga of the New World—from immigrant boy to Minister of the Crown in his adopted province.

He was born in Gothenburg, Sweden, in 1878, and when he was in his late teens set sail for Canada to join his father, who had come out to make a new home for his family. Rolf Bruhn had had a good education, spoke several languages, but was ready for hard work in Canada.

A powerful man, his first job in Canada was on Great Lakes ships. Then he came west, interesting himself in mining and lumbering and public service. In 1906 he was a road worker for the government department he was to head on two occasions in later years.

He first entered public life as an alderman at Salmon Arm. He went into provincial politics in 1924, and was returned at every election since. When the Tolmie government was elected in 1928, Mr. Bruhn was chosen president of the executive council; a few years later he became Minister of Public Works. He was one of the few members of the Tolmie government re-elected in 1933.

He sat in the Legislature from 1933 to 1937 as an Independent, and later returned to the Conservative fold.

When Premier Hart formed a coalition of Liberals and Conservatives last December he chose Mr. Bruhn to head the Department of Public Works.

LOST ONLY SON

Mr. Bruhn's death follows by only four months that of his son, Edward, who died at Shuswap Lake April 23 after rescuing a companion when their launch capsized.

By strange coincidence Mr. Bruhn himself was the central figure in a similar accident in the same lake many years ago. He and a friend were in a boat, when the engine exploded. Through flaming water, Mr. Bruhn swam to rescue his friend and, as a result, carried deep scars on his face the rest of his life.

One of Mr. Bruhn's first ventures in B.C. was formation of the R. W. Bruhn Pole & Lumber Co., which he headed at the time of his death. He was also president of Sheep Creek Gold Mines, vice-president of Bayonne Consolidated Mines, director of Durango Gold Mines and was interested in a number of other well-known properties.

Surviving are his wife, the former Anna Traet of Stanberry, Miss, whom he married in 1902, and one daughter, Mrs. H. M. Patterson of Sicamous, who, as Elvira Bruhn, went to school in Victoria when her father was in the Tolmie cabinet.

Funeral will be with full Masonic honors, Mr. Bruhn having been a well-known member of the Masonic craft and a member of the I.O.O.F.

'Life of Service' Says Premier Hart

Premier John Hart today paid the following tribute to Hon. R. W. Bruhn:

"In the passing of Hon. Rolf Bruhn, British Columbia has lost one of its most beloved citizens—a man whose whole life was based on the precept of service."

"He was warmly held in the hearts of all who knew him intimately, and held in the highest esteem and treated with the greatest regard by the public generally."

"Mr. Bruhn was a man who placed the welfare of the public and service to his adopted land above everything else. This was exemplified by the fact that, with utter disdain for the consequences, he insisted in carrying on the works as Minister of the Crown knowing that in so doing he was impairing his health."

"It was this unselfishness throughout his life that won for him such an honored place in the community in which he lived, and throughout the length and breadth of this province."

"Elected to the Legislature for the constituency of Salmon Arm in 1924, Mr. Bruhn was returned at every recurring election without any doubt as to what the result of that election would be from its outset. This was the manner in which the citizens of his community paid tribute to his record of public service."

"Mr. Bruhn held the portfolio of Minister of Public Works and was president of the Executive Council under the Tolmie administration. He gave fearless and impartial administration, qualities which fitted him admirably for a cabinet position again when the Ministry of Public Works was offered him on the formation of British Columbia's first Coalition government."

"His demise has touched us all very deeply. Our sorrow at the bereavement caused his wife and all those nearest and dearest to him, is inexpressible. I would like at this time to convey, on behalf of my colleagues in the government of which Mr. Bruhn was such a valued member, my profound regrets and most heartfelt sympathy. His death is a great personal loss to me. I shall miss his sympathetic and practical advice which was so cheerfully given at all times."

Fires Seen Far After Berlin Raid

MOSCOW (AP)—Russian planes which bombed Berlin the night of Aug. 29-30 were tossed out by the concussion of furious anti-aircraft fire and they played a sharp game of hide-and-seek with dazzling German searchlights, airmen in the raid reported today.

Berlin was hit hard, they asserted. After their missions had been completed they could see fires dozens of miles from the German capital, they said.

Sergei Danchin, pilot of one of the Soviet bombers which made the flight, said Berlin was brilliantly lit when he arrived. Searchlights made a bright ring around the city and fliers who had come ahead of him had started many fires.

"Comrades who had preceded me were still blasting their targets with bombs," he said.

TARGET BOMBED

His own machine, Danchin said, was found by one light, and in a moment a dozen others were on him. But he had found his target, plants of the Deutsche Industrie Werke.

"Looking back, we saw the beginning of three more fires, one of them started by a terrific explosion. The anti-aircraft fire came so close to us that the acid smoke of bursting shells penetrated the cockpit."

The Russian raiders looked for the vast Siemens electrical appliance and motor plant in Berlin. They expressed confidence many of their hundreds of small, medium and heavy bombs damaged those works.

About 50 fires were counted in the Berlin area, Danchin asserted.

Nippon Air Base In Burma Strafed

NEW DELHI (CP)—Striking after the Japanese had repaired damage caused by bombing raids, Allied fliers in two days of attacks hit sharply at the important Japanese air base at Myitkyna, in north Burma, it was announced today.

A communique issued by Brig. Gen. Clayton Bissell, United States commander of air forces in India, Burma and China, said the new raids were carried out on successive days by medium bombers and fighters of the R.A.F. and American air forces.

(Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters in Chungking, China, issued a communique today saying that bombers Sunday raided the city and airdrome at Myitkyna. This represented an additional attack to the ones reported by Brig. Gen. Bissell.)

The Japanese air base had been put out of commission temporarily in the previous American bomber raids.

Of the new attacks the communique said:

"The first raid scored direct hits on the air field and dispersal areas."

"Anti-personnel bombs were dropped on barracks and the town."

"On the second raid direct hits were made on the runway and anti-personnel bombs were scattered among buildings."

"From both raids there was no damage to our planes or personnel."

Armed Soldiers Steal Car, Money

B.C. and city police are today searching for a grey 1941 Ford coupe, license number 28-338, which is believed to be somewhere between Nanaimo and Victoria in possession of two soldiers, one of them armed, who held up Oscar Western of Campbell River at midnight.

Western stopped to pick up the two men at Chase River, a few miles south of Nanaimo. As soon as they got in the car one drew a revolver and forced him to climb out after stealing $20.

It is believed the car was headed toward Victoria. City police are covering all roads leading to the city from up-Island, but as yet the car has not been seen.

Hitler and Duce To Confer Again

LONDON (CP)—A foreign diplomatic source who could not be quoted by name said today he had received unconfirmed advice from the continent indicating Hitler and Mussolini would confer soon on the dual problems of campaigns in Russia and Africa.

The meeting probably will take place at Hitler's Russian front headquarters, the source said, adding he had heard that the Italian premier "has some complaints to make," possibly over the use of Italian troops and certain phases of collaboration within Italy.

Rommel's Supply Base At El Daba Bombarded

By LARRY ALLEN

ABOARD A DESTROYER OF THE BRITISH MEDITERRANEAN FLEET (Delay, AP)—British warships smashed Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's big Axis supply base in the Egyptian desert south of El Daba with a pre-dawn bombardment today and fought their way home under ceaseless dive-bombing concentrated on this flotilla leader.

Naval gunners fired 1,000 high-explosive shells into the sleeping German-Italian base in 42 minutes. They left a wide area of destruction and huge fires amid barracks, tank parks, repair shops and ammunition and fuel depots.

Casualties among Rommel's armored corps technicians, vital for maintenance of his tanks and armored cars in any contemplated offensive, were regarded by British observers as heavy.

Throughout the attack there was no answering fire from the shore. The action was broken off in the moonlight at 4:57 a.m., and this destroyer pulled away, followed by the other warships.

I was standing on the starboard side of the bridge with the chief of the expedition, a young, black-haired lieutenant-commander, when a strange craft suddenly emerged from a dark path of water. The officer ordered the guns to fire.

Tracer shells split the darkness as the ship's batteries poured streams of explosives into the sea.

DETAILS CENSORED

(Subsequent details of this engagement were withheld by the British censor.)

Soon after the rise of the sun, blood red, the Germans launched an attack with more than 50 dive-bombers, one of the fiercest and most intensive ever loosed against a surface craft.

Out of the sun swooped six planes for the first round.

Screaming, they made for this destroyer like a beast after prey. Pom-pom batteries, machine guns and turret guns of the destroyer were brought into play and the following warships added to the defensive fire, but the pilots paid little attention; either to the guns or the other vessels.

They dived close, then pulled out of their dives. There was the terrifying swish of heavy bombs. Hitting the sea close alongside the destroyer, the bombs gave her a huge jolt, but she plowed on.

Heavier and heavier assaults came in succession. Thousands of empty shell cases littered the decks, gunners were weary and the superstructure was riddled by bullets.

The dive-bombers persisted until the destroyer was well within sight of our home base. Nevertheless, the lieutenant-commander reported the casualties were slight. I escaped with cuts, bruises and shock.

There were times I thought I would never get out of it alive.

SPARES ROACH

It's funny, but once when I had my face pressed to the deck a little brown cockroach scampered before my eyes. My first impulse was to kill it. But I knew it wanted to live. I flicked it away.

The dive-bombers came in teams of sixes or tens. Exclamations punctuated the explosions.

Big bombs washed the destroyer's decks with geysers of water and sand from the bottom of the Mediterranean.

German shore batteries then opened fire.

Simultaneously, more dive-bombers roared overhead. Near misses rocked the vessel.

A dozen or more German shells whistled over my head before the destroyer passed out of range of the land-based guns. The destroyer never answered the shore shelling. We were involved enough with the planes.

A petty officer found some ham and bread on the mess deck. I ate ravenously.

NAZI SMOKING

A Nazi flier dropped a stick of eight bombs on our port side. Smoke poured from the tail of his plane as he pulled away under the gunfire.

British fighters appeared to battle the enemy squadrons and brought down one plane.

Italian bombers and Messerschmitt fighter-bombers sped into the fray and explosives fell by the score. British seamen nearly dropped from exhaustion. Minutes seemed like hours.

Within sight of our home quay, the Axis crews ceased their assaults.

Naval aircraft spotters reported that the shelling of the El Daba concentration, one of the most important bases for repair and equipping of Rommel's tanks and an advanced supply centre for the entire army, exceeded expectations.

WELDON NAMED NEWSPRINT CHIEF

OTTAWA (CP)—R. L. Weldon, 48, of Montreal, president of the Bathurst Power & Paper Company and its subsidiaries, has been appointed newsprint administrator to succeed Charles Vinling of Montreal, it was announced here.

Mr. Vinling last week was named chairman of the government's newly-created War Information Board.

Mr. Weldon has been associated with the paper industry continuously since graduation from university. Born in Winnipeg, he was educated in Winnipeg schools and McGill University.

During 1919-20, he was with the Laurentide Company at Grand Mere, Que., as mechanical engineer, then until 1923 with St. Lawrence Paper Mills at Montreal and Three Rivers. Next he joined the Newfoundland Power & Paper Company as designing engineer, becoming assistant mill manager when the company opened its Cornerbrook, Nfld., plant.

On reorganization of the Bathurst Power & Paper Co. Ltd. in 1936, Mr. Weldon became president and managing director of the company and its subsidiaries.

Gandhi Movement Now Underground

By PRESTON GROVER
NEW DELHI (AP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi's movement of civil disobedience appears to be spreading underground after three weeks of surface demonstrations in which disorder, suppressed in India's big cities, continued to boil in the villages.

From underground channels has been distributed a secret set of instructions to Gandhi's followers to concentrate their shut-down activities on the "first 20 cities" of India, declaring that "our activities should see that the climax of the movement, both in rural and urban India, is reached four weeks from now."

A government communique Saturday reported six Indians killed and 38 injured when officers fired into a disorderly crowd around a police station in Patna province. But such incidents were not being duplicated in the cities.

A communique issued Sunday at Lucknow said nine persons were believed to have been killed by police who fired into a mob of about 200 persons attacking a railway station between Tundla and Hathras, in north central India.

An indication that authorities were less concerned about possible violence in the cities was seen in the fact Gandhi's son, Devadas, managing editor of the Hindustan Times, was freed by a magistrate who heard charges that the younger Gandhi had violated defence regulations.

As the movement ended its fourth week, increasing numbers of Gandhi's followers were in jail and the authorities were following a policy of keeping his name out of the public press under the theory "out of print out of mind."

Solomons Battle Only Hint Yet

LORAIN, O. (AP)—Admiral Ernest J. King Sunday declared the battle of the Solomon Islands was only a hint of what is in store for the enemy.

Returning to his home town to participate in a patriotic celebration, the commander of the United States fleet told workers at the American Ship-Building Company yards here:

"We have furnished to our

Commandos Raid Grecian Island

LONDON (AP)—A mysterious commando-style raid on the tiny island of Antikythera, between Greece and Crete, and a hot 24 hours of air action directed against Sicily, and reinforced Malta, indicated today that Britain once more is striking strongly for the initiative in the Mediterranean.

At the same time British submarines were reported to be taking a heavy toll in attacks on convoys trying to get reinforcements, oil and ammunition through to Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, whose expected offensive in the direction of Alexandria and the Nile delta appeared to be fading with the waning of the desert moon.

A Reuters News Agency dispatch from "Aboard a British destroyer in the Eastern Mediterranean," reported that a British force of destroyers rained shells on Rommel's tank repair shops and stores at El Daba on the Egyptian coast early Saturday.

The first word of the raid on Antikythera, which the Italians call Gerigotto, came from the Italian high command, which said a "small enemy unit" made a landing attempt on the night of Aug. 28 but "fled on the quick intervention of our defenses."

The island is about five miles long and from one to three miles wide, has a population of only a few hundred and is just south of Kythera, southernmost of the London Islands. Rocky and barren, it is almost midway of the 60-mile distance between Greece and Crete.

An authoritative source here said: "It is not unlikely that some sort of landing was made," but added he would not be surprised "if we never hear of it officially."

enemies on Tulagi in the Solomons area but a sample of what they're going to get.

"But we cannot do the job we have to do without the help of everyone. We need every killing tool we can get. This is a people's war and we are all in it until it is won."

The chief of naval operations asserted there now are 5,000,000 men in the armed forces and that in another year "we will have 8,000,000."

Chapter 3

Dieppe Narrator Back in Canada

NEW YORK (CP)—The raid of United States flying fortresses on Abbeville during the Dieppe assault Aug. 19 was described here by Ross Munro, Canadian Press war correspondent who landed with Allied troops in the raid, as one of the most vital parts of the operation.

"The timing of the bombing of Abbeville, for the fortresses was perfect," Munro said during a pause here on his way from England to Canada.

"It must have been shortly before noon that the German air force made its great attempt to knock out the British fleet that stood off the French shore and was bombarding German emplacements.

"That one German air attack was terrific. They sent over Dorniers, Heinkels and Messerschmitts in waves. I know about 50 bombs dropped within a few yards of the boat I was in. But the navy wasn't knocked out."

"On that one great raid the Germans drew from their reserves all over France as well as in Belgium and Holland. It was quite a thing."

ANSWER TERRIFIC
"When it was over the R.A.F. figured in a flash where those German aircraft were landing to be refueled. It was Abbeville, about 50 miles from Dieppe."

"The answer was more than terrific. A squadron of flying fortresses had been held back in England for an emergency and this was it."

"They were sent over Abbeville and simply smashed the air field to pieces while the Nazi planes were on the ground being refueled."

SPEEDY CROSSING
Munro left the Atlantic crossing in 19 hours 40 minutes, a new record for the flight, aboard an American Export Airline plane.

"I'm not only glad to be here but amazed," he said, "Only 11 days ago we were at Dieppe, and now New York, with Toronto and Canada ahead!"

Munro left for Toronto Sunday night to visit his mother and sister before making his first speech tonight at Windsor, Ont.

Through Canadian Press member newspaper arrangements are being made in each of the home cities of regiments which participated in the Dieppe operation for Munro to make an address.

His eyewitness story, written after he returned with the Canadian troops from Dieppe, has been acclaimed as one of the war's finest pieces of reporting.

The newspapers are arranging the gatherings in conjunction with the regimental auxiliaries and veterans' organizations, inviting relatives of those who fought at Dieppe.

When Munro left for overseas two years ago on four hours' notice, he was unable to return to Toronto to say goodbye to his mother. He left Ottawa, where he was stationed on the Parliamentary staff, for an east coast Canadian port and sailed immediately.

Memorial Service For Duke of Kent

LONDON (CP)—The Duchess of Kent, heavily veiled, attended a memorial service Sunday for her husband at the little parish church of Iwer, near which the Kents lived. The Duke was killed last week in a plane crash in north Scotland while bound for Iceland on active service with the R.A.F.

The church was crowded with villagers. The service originally was planned for Saturday when the funeral of the Duke was held. It was postponed at the request of the Duchess so she could attend.

The Duchess sat in the chancel close to the altar and showed deep distress when the Bishop of Buckingham, who conducted the service, said: "Let us humbly remember before God His Royal Highness George Edward Alexander Edmund, the Duke of Kent, and all those who died with him."

"At the request of the Duchess, this was the only reference to her husband during the short service. The Duchess chose the hymn, 'On the Resurrection Morning,' to be sung and the 23rd Psalm to be read.

While deep in her own sorrow the Duchess did not forget the widow of another airman who died in the crash of the Duke's plane. While the body of the Duke was laid to rest at Windsor, P.O. Hon. Michael Strutt, the Duke's aide who trained for the R.A.F. in Canada, was buried at Nottinghamshire.

On the Strutt coffin there was a wreath with a message to the widow from the Duchess. It read: "With heartfelt sympathy in our mutual bereavement."

Recovering
AT A CANADIAN HOSPITAL, Somewhere in England (CP)—"They put up a h— of a good fight."

Simply and directly, Brig. Sherwood Lett of Vancouver paid this tribute to the Canadians who fought under his direction at Dieppe.

He told his story Sunday while seated in a wheel chair watching a tennis match between two officers. His pyjamas bulged where bandages covered a shrapnel wound in his right shoulder.

Brig. Lett praised the co-operation between the land, sea and air forces engaged in the operation. "It was marvelous," he said.

"Each branch was always in the right spot and always one or the other was helping in the work of the third. Communications were good. It was a good test diately in one of the first 'gift' destroyers transferred from the United States to Britain.

For two years he has been attached to the headquarters of the Canadian army overseas as Canadian war correspondent.

His daily dispatches have chronicled the training and the other activities of the army in the United Kingdom. Munro was the only newspaperman with the Canadian forces on the Spitzbergen raid in August, 1941.

Petaim Assails Vichy Opponents

CLERMONT FERRAND (AP)—Marshal Petaim, speaking at a picturesque ceremony Sunday on ground where Gallic chieftains opposed Caesar, assailed "backward-looking Frenchmen" who labor at "treason" against his Vichy regime.

The marshal's first political speech since he explained the circumstances of the appointment of Pierre Laval as head of the Vichy government last April was made at an imperial soil mixing service on the second anniversary of the founding of the French Legion, the only sanctioned political movement in unoccupied France.

He told the legion members that a "sect mocking the noblest sentiments pursues its labor of treason under cover of patriotism."

While the marshal insisted the Vichy government will carry out its program of "revolution" despite all obstacles, he did not elaborate on details of French domestic politics, his "international policy, or the government's present drive to send workmen to Germany."

SILENT ON DAKAR
He also passed over a subject on which the French press was expressing concern—the status of Dakar.

The papers published dispatches from Berlin charging that the United States fleet is preparing to take possession of Dakar, the Azores, the Canary and Cape Verde Islands as soon as the rainy season is past.

The impression prevailed that Dakar and other French territories in Africa have assumed tactical importance because of Brazil's entry into the war.

(The comparatively short distance between Natal, port on the "Eastward bulge of Brazil," and Dakar last week prompted Col. Lysias A. Rodrigues of the Brazilian air force general staff to call it the "Straits of Dakar" and to call Brazil a great promontory favorable for offensive action.)

(Rumors reported in Stockholm dispatches said Laval was about to agree to demands from Berlin to permit the stationing of a German division at Dakar to "protect" French territory.)

The speech was notable in that it departed from the marshal's usual pessimism.

"Much can be asked of a nation when the chiefs who guide it have faith in their mission," he said. "I have faith in the one that has been entrusted to me. I admit no doubts, no matter where they come from."

The soil-mixing ceremony on Gervoye plateau where the Gallic chief Vercingetorix stood against Caesar in 52 B.C. consisted of placing handfuls of earth from all parts of French territory in a large urn which is to be preserved in a vault.

Japs Will Fight Until Crushed, Says Envoy Grew

WASHINGTON (AP)—A solemn warning that the Japanese fight "with all the force and power at their command... until they are utterly crushed," and that great sacrifices are necessary by Americans to avoid a stalemate was delivered Sunday night by Joseph C. Grew, the former ambassador newly returned from Tokyo.

From the background of his 10 years' service in Japan, Grew declared that "we are up against a powerful fighting machine, a people whose morale cannot and will not be broken even by successive defeats, who will certainly not be broken by economic hardships, a people who individually and collectively will gladly sacrifice their lives for their emperor and their nation; and who can be brought to earth only by... complete defeat in battle."

This report, delivered in a radio address which was Grew's first public utterance since his return on the liner Gripsholm last week, was lightened, only by a declaration that the United Nations can win through "the exertion of our maximum capacities, individually and collectively, in a war of offence."

CITES ATROCITIES

Grew gave his official confirmation to the accounts of atrocities reported by returning newspapermen and others, including a detailed account of the "water cure" administered to three elderly missionaries and a recital of the bayoneting to death of captured soldiers.

The diplomat also recounted the deceitful manner in which Foreign Minister Togo treated his presentation of President Roosevelt's 11th-hour message to Emperor Hirohito, keeping Grew in "entire ignorance" of the attack on Pearl Harbor even as conversations took place.

"The idea should not for a moment be entertained that the failure of the Japanese forces in China have discouraged the Japanese people," Grew said. "It has instead served to steel them for still greater sacrifices and to prepare them better for the war of deadly purpose to conquer upon which they have finally embarked."

Speaking of an offensive spirit which permeates all classes of the Japanese people, the envoy reported that the Nipponese high command has counted heavily on the advantage this would give them over less aggressive enemies.

THINK WHITES WEAK

"They have put great store in what they consider to be the white man's flabbiness," he declared. "They look upon us Americans as constitutional weaklings."

In connection with "cruel and barbaric tortures" to which he said many prisoners had been subjected, Grew related that during the days of waiting in Yokohama for the Gripsholm to sail, "several of those people told me that if the negotiations for our exchange failed they would commit suicide rather than return to their imprisonment in Japan. I know they would have done so."

The ambassador said they had on shipboard direct evidence of "the horrible atrocities perpetrated in the rape of Nanking" and at Hongkong, "when soldiers who had been taken as prisoners of war were bayoneted to death."

"The dying shrieks of those soldiers were heard by a woman, a fellow passenger of ours, who herself told me the terrible story," he said.

A.R.P. ACTIVITIES
A.R.P. District 8, Saanich—Wardens are requested to attend a meeting at 8, Wednesday, at the Parish Hall, Royal Oak. They should bring notebooks. There will be a special speaker. Those successful in the first aid examination held at Royal Oak in May should obtain certificate and refund from Mr. Ennals, A.R.P. Office, Royal Oak.

Inspector A. H. Bishop, civilian protection officer, announced today a first aid course for girls in city employ would be conducted by Mrs. Eva Rogers, assistant superintendent of the St. John Ambulance Nursing Brigade, will start Sept. 16.

Saanich District No. 5—First aid classes scheduled to begin Sept. 1, have been postponed, due to late registrations. Date of the first class will be announced later.

District 7, "Eagles"—The gas lectures will start tonight at 8 in the Eagles Hall. Gas masks will be issued to all wardens, before and after the gas lecture.

Old Klondyker Here, Looking for Poet

G. I. Maxwell, mineral surveyor of Brémerton, has admired Robert Service and his work since his own days in the Klondike over 40 years ago.

Because he wanted to hear Service's ideas on the post-war world, Mr. Maxwell made a special trip to Victoria, where he had been told the poet was making his home.

"Few men," he says, "rise to the heights where they visualize the future of man on this earth as Service has done in 'The Spell of the Yukon.'"

Mr. Maxwell believes "something of the rugged philosophy that is the heart of the poet's work will form the basis of the post-war world."

Last here in 1902 on his way back from Alaska and the Klondike gold rush, Mr. Maxwell considers B.C. one of the most beautiful spots in the world.

Born in Scotland, he went to Australia while still in his teens. From Australia he went to South Africa to take part in the Boer War. Since the Klondike he has made his home in the United States, his permanent residence being Medford, Ore.

Mrs. Maxwell accompanied her husband and they are staying at the Douglas Hotel.

Ottawa Takes Over B.C. Tungsten Claim

Emerald claim of Iron Mountain Mines Ltd. has been taken over by Wartime Metals Corporation, a Dominion government operating company, and is being managed for the present by B.C. Department of Mines' engineers, pending appointment of a resident manager, Hon. Herbert Anscomb, Minister of Mines, said today. The claim is near Salmo, south of Nelson.

"The tungsten discovery on this property was announced some time ago and has turned out to be highly encouraging," Mr. Anscomb said. "The $1,000,000 worth of ore announced a few weeks ago as a possibility is now almost an assured fact, and the property is improving day by day. This, undoubtedly, is the most promising tungsten property in Canada."

A Fine Canadian Passes

ALTHOUGH A SON OF DEMOCRATIC Sweden, Rolf Walgren Bruhn had been a resident of Canada for 45 years, and in that comparatively short space of time he had carved a niche for himself in the business and public life of British Columbia from which he could look back on a career of success marked by hard work, irreproachable citizenship, and a progressive outlook which had enabled him to contribute much of value to the province of his adoption. Not only to Premier Hart and his colleagues in the coalition government of which Mr. Bruhn had been a loyal and able member since its inception but the news of his passing came as a profound shock; those who have been privileged to know him intimately through the years will experience a keen sense of personal loss.

Regardless of the fact that he had identified himself with the Conservative cause in this province for many years, Mr. Bruhn was not a rabid partisan by any interpretation of the term. He had cultivated an almost uncanny sense of human values, a faculty for stripping the superfluous from the important. It was this attitude toward life, perhaps, which automatically attracted to him men to whose political orthodoxy he might have found it difficult to subscribe. Everybody trusted Rolf Bruhn; they knew he always meant what he said. His public service bears witness to this all-too-rare quality. He was an omnivorous reader, an unflagging student of the moving scene; and he was a good man as well as a conscientious servant of the people. None could desire a more appropriate epitaph.

Jittery Fuehrer

A DOLF HITLER SEEMS TO BE MANIFESTING some apprehension about the behavior of the German people in the coming winter. Although he is Reichsfuehrer and the All Highest in the land, it will be recalled that earlier this year he intimated the administration of the law in future would depend solely upon his attitude toward what was and what was not good for the Nazi cause. It may have been a superfluous decree; but it was a general warning of the unlimited amount of elasticity about to be imparted to what goes for justice in the Teutonic realm. Not surprising, then, is the announcement of the appointment of Dr. Otto Georg Thierack as a Minister with special power to "deviate from existing laws"—to enforce the Fuehrer's discipline. Hitherto Thierack has presided over the mysterious "People's Court"—a tribunal "rigged" to serve Berlin's requirements in all cases appearing before it.

Intimation of this appointment, of course, fits in with Hitler's recent announcement of his intention to recruit a large force of super-elite guards whose hand-picked personnel could be depended upon to do the Fuehrer's will under any and all circumstances without question. Observers in neutral European states attributed this plan to Hitler's fear lest the army balk at some of the missions it might be called upon to undertake in the event of disorders, food riots, and the like. Hence his decision to enlist the "cream" of Nazi thugdom to do his bidding at all costs. But the world has grown so accustomed to the Nazi chief's maniacal conduct that the appointment of a Minister of "Justice" to "deviate from existing laws" leaves it more or less unmoved. It is nevertheless a symptom which helps to dilute some of the successes which the Wehrmacht is achieving in southeastern Russia.

Mr. Grew's Stern Warning

UNEQUIVOCAL IN HIS WARNING that nothing short of complete and absolute physical defeat in the strictest military sense will eliminate the Japanese, and equally emphatic that nothing short of an American war effort to match that of a people who count death for their emperor an essential sacrifice, Mr. Joseph C. Grew, former United States ambassador to Tokyo, compressed into a 15-minute radio address from Washington yesterday evening a recital of challenging facts and conclusions that all free peoples must heed.

Ten years in his important ambassadorial post gave Mr. Grew ample opportunity to study Japanese mentality and Japanese plans for the establishment of what the men of Tokyo have continually and euphemistically described as Nippon's "co-prosperity sphere"—which, of course, means domination of the whole of Asia and the Pacific. It was highly important that his first public utterance since he arrived back in the United States avoided everything in the nature of diplomatic hedging. The former ambassador's incumbency of the American embassy in Tokyo embraced the period of Japan's aggression from the time of the Mukden "incident" in 1931, the Marco Polo bridge "affair" in 1937, and the denouement at Pearl Harbor.

Through all those years Mr. Grew had watched the development of the new Japanese imperialism, the preparation of the whole of the people for every form of sactrifice calculated to advance and popularize the ambitions of the unscrupulous and bestial-minded war lords—an accumulation of proof that only the ruthless application of their own technique will reduce them to submission. One of the gravest mistakes his own people and the people of the United Nations could make at this stage, he emphatically declared, would be to imagine that an Allied victory could be hastened by economic pressures; the philosophy of self-denial had long since become an instrument in mass thinking. Nor must it be supposed that the inconclusive character of the Sino-Japanese had weakened domestic resolve to do every bidding of the men who had systematically engineered the war. They are conducting their campaign for certain victory; they do not understand the meaning of defensive warfare. And this conclusion is borne out by the plan of campaign which began by the gradual partitioning of various islands in the southward march, the deal with Vichy for valuable "accommodations" in French Indo-China; we know the rest.

Mr. Grew's message to the American people, then, is simple to understand: If they desire to bring about the complete destruction of the Japanese militarists and the machine which they have so laboriously built to impose their "co-prosperity" plan, they must from now on emulate the type of sacrifice which the whole of the Nipponese population have embraced. Complete military defeat of the enemy on his own ground is the irreducible minimum. Nothing less than that must be the Allied objective. The former ambassador has hurled his challenge to his compatriots; but unless there shall be a really all-out war effort it will not be met successfully.

Ration Books

DISTRIBUTION OF THE NEW RATION books for use on or after Sept. 7 is now being completed. The books are good for six months. Each sheet has 13 coupons and each coupon is for two weeks' supply of a rationed commodity. The first sheet, which is red, is for sugar; the next sheet, which is green, is for tea or coffee. Three additional sets of coupons, printed blue, brown and grey, are included in the book. These have been issued in case it is found necessary during the next six months to ration some other commodities.

The fact that these extra sheets have been issued does not mean other commodities are necessarily to be rationed. The Wartime Prices and Trade Board has stated that at the present time no further rationing is contemplated. Six months, however, is a long time under fast-changing supply conditions and the board has issued the extra sets of coupons merely as a measure of preparedness and to save the expense and delay of another issue of coupons should an emergency arise. In view of the statement of the board, to hearken to recurrent rumors that this or the other commodity is to be rationed and to rush to buy is not only unwise but actually unpatriotic.

There are rules in connection with the use of the ration books that will bear emphasizing. Coupons must not be detached; it is illegal for a vendor to accept loose coupons. The holder of each book should keep a record of its serial number; in case of loss there will be no replacement until the serial number is available. The postcard in the book is not to be used until the end of six months; then, it is to be used to secure a new book. On receiving his book, the addressee must enter his name and address and serial number in ink on each page of coupons. Care to observe these rules from the start will make for smooth operation of the rationing system and save the individual embarrassment or other difficulties.

Japanese and B.C.

VANCOUVER'S MAYOR CORNETT IS sponsoring a resolution seeking to persuade his colleagues on the City Council to petition the Dominion government for a change of policy in Canada's attitude toward the Japanese after the war. While His Worship has no desire to saddle any other Canadian province with the sons of Nippon now removed from British Columbia by the Provincial Security Commission, he proposes to insist that never again shall this part of the country be faced with a situation such as that which confronted it after Pearl Harbor. There may be many difficulties to be overcome; the question of what to do with those of Japanese origin who are now Canadians, and those of first and second generation who are Canadian born. At the same time, the demands of total war, its implications and everything it entails, have helped Canadian statesmanship to find solutions for much which might well have balked us in normal times.

Former United States ambassador Joseph C. Grew, who spoke to the people of this continent last evening, will have strengthened the arguments of those who, like Mayor Cornett, mean to impress on the Dominion government the urgent need of dealing with what, for the want of a better term, can be called the Japanese problem. His recital of the atrocities committed in the name of Nippon's emperor and Nippon's war lords not only confirmed earlier reports, such as Mr. Eden's statement to the House of Commons; it exposed in all their ghastly detail brutalities which prove beyond all doubt that our Oriental enemy must never again be entitled to sentimental considerations on any score. Mr. Grew has reminded us in the most forthright fashion that the Japanese people as a whole must be placed in the same category as their war lords. And until Japan thoroughly rid herself of her schizophrenic she must be treated accordingly.

GREAT MEN

THE GALLUP POLL, one observes, has lately plumbed the depths of the Canadian people's almost unfathomable inferiority complex. That means going down very deep.

The excavation was based on a simple question. The people were asked who was the greatest living Canadian. I forget the figures exactly, but they showed in the first place that many Canadians had no answer, didn't know who was their greatest countryman and often doubted that there was any. In Quebec some half of the people thought Mr. King the greatest, but in the rest of Canada a minority agreed with that verdict. A majority did not think Mr. King the greatest.

But Canada has never felt for years that it had a great man in its midst. Since the days of the Laurier legend no Canadian has truly inspired his country. Perhaps you might say that only Macdonald and Laurier ever did inspire it, that all others were taken on sufferance and with some scepticism. But was this verdict sound?

HISTORY'S VERDICT

BORDEN, IN HIS TIME, was regarded as an honest, rather dull man of no outstanding greatness. But in history Borden now appears as one of the largest figures in our history, one of the chief makers of the modern British Commonwealth of Nations. On the whole he contributed as much to Canada or more than did Laurier, but the Laurier legend still outshines him. That is because most Canadians know little of the history of their country, know nothing of his work at Paris which was the foundation of the Statute of Westminster.

In the same way it is impossible to judge accurately now the work of Mr. King or his place in history. Obviously he is scandalously unpopular at the moment over a large part of the country. He holds no place in Canadian esteem comparable to the place of Churchill and Roosevelt in their countries. A poll taken in the United States and Britain today on the greatest living American and Britisher would return no doubtful result. There would hardly be a vote for anyone but Roosevelt and Churchill.

Mr. King, simply does not possess the subtle quality of magnetism, human appeal and popularity which shines from the faces of the British and American leaders. This, during a war, when a nation needs all the inspiration it can get, when it must live more on hope than on victory, more on faith than on results, is very bad; but no one in the Gallup poll or otherwise has suggested any alternative.

That is the chief significance of the poll—it shows that, even though Mr. King does not command the unqualified admiration of the country, no one commands anything like his support. All the visible alternatives—Meighen, Hanson, Drew, the Conservatives, and Isley; Ralston, Macdonald, the Liberals, get hardly any votes at all. So Mr. King is remaining with us.

OUTSHADOWED

MY OPINION OF MR. KING cannot possibly be of any interest. I have stated it from time to time and do not need to repeat it here. It was used against Mr. King by Mr. Hanson in Parliament not long ago but Mr. King handled that very neatly and in the end both of them survived my light observations. But whatever one's opinion on Mr. King or other Canadian leaders, one fact should be remembered—no matter how great a Canadian leader was at this time he would be totally outshadowed by the leaders of the larger nations.

No Canadian, however brilliant, even if he were of Churchill's stature and Roosevelt's gallantry and wore a loin cloth like Mr. Gandhi and a big mustache like Mr. Stalin—no such Canadian leader could match as a pure spectacle the leaders of the greater nations because they have behind them a power which the Canadian would lack.

Inevitably, whatever we do in Canada, however we turn, we find this same circumstance. We are overshadowed. We are small. We are relatively weak. This has bred into us the inferiority complex which does not prevail so largely in other small places because they are not close to such a big neighbor as the United States.

Australia, for example, does not suffer in the same way because it is a remote island and the larger size, prosperity and glitter of the United States are dimmed by distance and the fog of the seas. Here this spectacle shines on us day and night and is perhaps the largest fact in our life.

TOO BAD

IF MR. ROOSEVELT had been a Canadian I doubt that at this point he would have been regarded by Canadians as one of the greatest figures in history. Indeed, he could not be, because he would not represent a large enough power. And if Mr. King possessed the qualities of Roosevelt—which God knows he does not—there would still be a large part of Canada, perhaps a majority, which would say that it was too bad we couldn't get an adequate war leader.

Of course it is too bad. Of course we need better leadership. But the curious thing is that our war effort, on the whole, compares favorably with that of any of the English-speaking nations despite its lack of glamour and its total absence of inspiration from the top. Even if that effort were the best in the world—which God knows it is not—most Canadians would still think it pretty bad because it is Canadian, because we are a small people and nowadays everything is judged by size.

SIDE GLANCES

"I had to choose between a permanent and new slippers, so if I begin sitting out tonight you'll know I've danced through these thin soles!"

Patients and Patience

I have never known a man entirely free from the inclination to protest against what he called the "bad breaks" received now and then along the route. All of us are prone to complain when anything goes wrong with our program, and it doesn't take much either to start the squawking.

After a bad morning on a trout stream, a blowout in the neighborhood of Cobble Hill, the loss of a sweater alleged to be a rain shelter, and fried instead of grilled salmon served for lunch, I was induced by my fat friend, George Warren, to halt and have a look at the Queen Alexandra Solarium for Crippled Children, along Malahat Beach off the main highway on the east coast of Vancouver Island.

"What is there that can be turned into copy?" I asked, thinking in terms of the column, "aren't all solariums pretty much alike?"

George said they were but nonetheless drove into a maple-lined road half a mile onward and stopped his car before a long two-story building extending north and south into a beautiful grove of jack pines, the whole set in a garden of old fashioned flowers blooming riotously among rocks and on trellises.

"We shan't be long," he said, wallowing out from behind the wheel. "It will be good to see what is being done here in the name of humanity. Come along, only one short flight."

Automatically I followed the fat man, with no interest one way or another. But as he had insisted . . .

At the second floor elevations we came out on a wide platform facing west by north, and deluged in yellow sunlight, tempered by cool breezes from the Georgian Strait filtered through endless forests of pine, fir and spruce trees, extending to the blue sea. Against the back wall, on 72 cots, spread with immaculate linen and pillows, enlivened by an occasional colored blanket, lay 72 children, in slips and breech cloths, with nothing between them and the sky. In years they ranged from four to 12. Not among them all was there boy or girl free from affliction, in the majority of cases, pre-natal. Brought into the world incomplete, knowing naught of any life save one of pain and physical restrictions, they had come, even in childhood, to accept life with resignation.

From these misshapen, stunted, unconscious contortionists, most of them flat on their backs, came no single word of complaint, no murmurs of discontent. "There they are, disciples of fortitude and hope, living legacies in no way responsible for their presence in this vale of tears."

Dr. Glenn Simpson, acting medical superintendent, conversing with or touching tenderly each child as he passed, informed us that the solarium patients have a 50 per cent chance for complete recovery, and that about 70 per cent are permanently benefited. For more than 10 years this institution, supported almost exclusively by voluntary subscription, feeds, cloths, lodges, educates and heals, and regardless of race, color, creed or money holds open the door to the crippled child, perfecting preventable measures for the benefit of the living and those to come.

After an hour not unmixing with considerable serious reflections that there should be so much misfortune, and so little complaint among the solarium waifs, we returned to the open road, the luxury of liberty, the dissolving view that is part of freedom.

"What do you think now of the bad breaks we get and the ill luck dealt to us grumblers?" asked George Warren, fumbling the wheel of his car. "Audits can't take it like those kids. Few of us stop to think . . ."

I laid a restraining hand upon his coruscant knee. There was nothing more to be said, anyhow, that is, nothing that words might convey. However, to those who read these lines, more especially to those who go through life complaining, I would suggest, if opportunity offers, that they drop in at the Queen Alexandra Solarium for Crippled Children, Malahat Beach, Cobble Hill, Vancouver Island, B.C., and get a true interpretation of the words patients and patience, spelled two ways, but both meaning one and the same thing.

HOW FRENCH-CANADIANS SEE IT

From L'Action Catholique, Quebec

Indeed, should conscription for overseas service be some day generally regarded as essential for the defence of Canada, independently of any imperial concern, our people would certainly agree to it. But they object to the realization of any imperialist ends.

French-Canadians bravely accept the obligations deriving from an alliance with England or any other friendly power but, being convinced of Canada's sovereignty since the Statute of Westminster, they sternly refuse to play the part of colonial subjects to shed their blood as such. And if their attitude appears excessive in relation to a compulsory measure which may serve either imperialist schemes or the real defence of Canada, it is because too many Canadians are ready to sacrifice Canadian youth to the interests of the "Mother Country," just as they hold to the imperial flag against a national flag.

French-Canadians are not anti-British, but Canadians to the core. None of them would think of accumulating wealth in Canada to end his life in England or France, which latter they admire but do not, and cannot, regard as their Fatherland.

PUSHES GOOD EATING

From Financial Post
Metropolitan Life, which has made outstanding contributions to health and dietary studies, is now pushing sound and economical eating among its policyholders. Says Metropolitan: "Food rationing does not need to deprive anyone of any vital nutritional elements. Immense amounts of food are wasted."

WAR—25 YEARS AGO TODAY
Aug. 31, 1917—French won ground on mile front along Chemin des Dames. Italians made an 11-mile breach in Austrian lines in northwestern Italy. Serbians attacked in the Drobopolis-Moglena sector of the Balkans. German attack began on Riga as the Dwina River was crossed.

The fog was terrible. I flew in a navy patrol bomber and couldn't see the wing tips, hour after hour—Col. Darryl F. Zanuck, back from the Aleutians.

Druggists Back Stamp Sales

Druggists in British Columbia are participating during September in the special drive to promote the sale of War Savings Stamps through drug stores.

Hon. J. L. Isley, Minister of Finance, appealed to the drug trade of Canada to be the first individual business classification to make a specialized one-month drive for the promotion of war stamp sales. During the month all government newspaper, magazine and radio advertising will feature drug stores as a special outlet for War Savings Stamps.

R. C. Lang, president of the Pharmaceutical Association of B.C. is chairman of the B.C. organization. Other members of the central provincial committee are J. P. Kennedy, C. Gregory, J. Dooch, J. Douglas and F. H. Fullerton. Hartley Burroughs, organizer of British Columbia for War Savings Stamps sales for the National War Finance Committee is working with this provincial group.

TRAVELERS TO HELP

Beryl Southcott, with Mr. Gregory, have organized all the drug travelers in British Columbia, and are now on a tour of the province placing advertising and stamps in all drug stores.

J. P. Southcott and E. Bunston are jointly covering Vancouver Island.

In Victoria arrangements are being worked out by a committee tee under the chairmanship of J. H. McD. Fulton and R. V. Jenkin, while Sheldon Spurr is heading up arrangements in Nanaimo and territory.

Chain stores have their own division in this campaign, and the drug departments of the three Vancouver department stores are also joining in the effort. This committee is under the chairmanship of A. W. Scott of Cunningham Drug Stores Ltd., and is composed of R. Arnot of Owl Drugs, L. Tobin of Reliable Drug Stores, E. W. Peters of Hudson's Bay Co., E. Worsley, David Spencer Ltd., and W. J. Innes of Woodwards Ltd., and F. H. Fullerton. This committee has worked out a series of window displays for the various chains, which will be featured in all stores during the month, and the department stores are also sponsoring special displays. All drug organizations, both chain and independent, use newspaper advertising, and are devoting space to the War Savings Stamp campaign during September.

Redskins Beat Army

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The seasoned Washington Redskins defeated the army's western grid forces 26 to 7 Sunday in a surprisingly hard-fought game played for the army relief fund before a crowd of 55,000.

Sammy Baugh and Little Dick Todd shared offensive honors for the veteran professional team in the running and passing department, while Bob Masterson's educated toe contributed two field goals and a pair of conversions after touchdowns.

They'll Do It Every Time

Labor Sessions Here Next Week

Plans for the trade union convention here next Sunday and Monday were discussed in detail Sunday night at a meeting of the Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference in Hamley Hall.

The conference, open to all working groups regardless of affiliation, will be held in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium, starting at 10 in the morning and continuing through Sunday and Monday to end with a dance Monday.

Delegates from all unions throughout the province have been invited to attend, and credentials are being received from various points, George Wilkinson, secretary, reported.

In addition to labor men, members of the provincial Legislature and the press have been invited to attend.

Two members of the island labor conference were appointed to act as a reception committee, and three were named to the entertainment group Sunday night.

The island conference repeated its stand for a higher rate of pay for men in the forces and for an increase in dependents' allowances, expressing the view those amounts should be equal to the pay in the U.S. forces.

F. J. Bevis, E. Robertson and George Wilkinson were named to prepare a brief from the conference on post war rehabilitation.

The conference further endorsed a move to have letters forwarded to responsible A.R.P. authorities calling on them to see adequate posters were placed in industrial plants outlining to employees the course of action to be followed in the event of an air raid.

B.C. Asks Ottawa Up Silver Price

B.C. Department of Mines has asked Ottawa to increase the domestic price of silver, in keeping with the recently increased price of imported silver in the United States, Hon. Herbert Anscomb, Minister of Mines, said today.

The U.S. has increased the price of imported silver to 45 cents an ounce and this includes silver from Canada.

"Canada's policy in regard to the domestic price of silver apparently has not been determined," Mr. Anscomb said. "Should the price not be increased, Canadian silver will go to the United States, unless it is placed under control, in which case Canadian producers would be deprived of the higher price."

Increased price in Canada would encourage production in B.C., particularly in the Stickeen area, where lead-zinc ores have appreciable silver content, the minister said. He pointed out that 45 cents an ounce would bring silver back to the average price paid in 1936 and almost to the average price for 1915, though still far below the average prices for 1916, 17 and 18.

Lawn Bowlers Aid Babies of Britain

A successful afternoon and evening of games and garden gala was held last week at the Lake Hill bowling greens, in aid of "Save the Babies Fund" of Great Britain, for which the lawn bowlers of British Columbia are hoping to raise as their objective $3,500.

The weather was perfect and the success of the affair was due to the entire membership, who worked for the cause and also all clubs and friends of the district, who gave hearty support. Hot dogs were popular during the evening games, and all the stalls in the afternoon did a brisk business. The sum of approximately $120 was raised.

FROM HOLLYWOOD — Gladys Sheppard, Victoria girl who went to Hollywood and made good, is vacationing here at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel. She is on the script end of the movie-making business. She got her start in Little Theatre work here and her training from Maj. Bullock-Webster.

Now Time to Send Christmas Smokes

B.C. Overseas Tobacco Fund asks that cigarettes intended for Christmas delivery to B.C. men serving in Britain should be ordered by Sept. 15. Delivery for Christmas cannot be guaranteed on orders placed after that date.

Permission has been obtained from the Board of Customs in United Kingdom which will allow people in this province to send cigarettes through the facilities of the fund to Canadian prisoners of war in European countries. The parcels will be mailed from British Columbia House, London.

A.R.P. Will Create Stirrup Pump Pool

Plans for the distribution of stirrup pumps to one home in every two city blocks for use of the public during an emergency, were announced today by Inspector A. H. Bishop, civilian protection officer.

The city A.R.P. has received a number of stirrup pumps which have been placed at district control centres. Earlier this week a shipment of 100 stirrup pumps arrived. Further shipments are expected.

The stirrup pumps will remain the property of the Dominion government, but distributed by district wardens to convenient houses in each district. Placards will designate the location of the stirrup pumps.

A similar plan was adopted by Oak Bay A.R.P. some time ago.

Inspector Bishop suggested that after the stirrup pumps have been distributed each household make a note of the location of the closest pump so it would be accessible for use if and when the need arises.

Arrives Overseas

Sgt. and Mrs. H. T. McCulloch of Vernon, formerly of Victoria, have received word of the arrival overseas of their son, Sgt. Air Gunner William McCulloch, R.C.A.F. Sgt. ## Incident Officers To Train Sept. 8

Inspector A. H. Bishop, civilian protection officer, announced Friday the A.R.P. course for incident officers will begin Sept. 8 and classes will be conducted each Tuesday and Thursday evening at the North Ward School.

The following will be lecturers for the course: Inspector Bishop, incident officers' duties; Chief Warden Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, A.R.P. organization; W. H. M. Haldane, criminal code; J. Howard Harman, court procedure; Dr. C. S. Beals, poison gas; H. L. Campbell, morale; E. J. Savannah, explosives; Deputy Fire Chief R. Taylor, fires; Dr. T. W. A. Gray, casualty service; V. McN. Rolfe, public utilities; Gen. E. C. Ashton, reports; Duncan K. Kennedy, inspection of buildings.

Further lectures will be given on the Defence of Canada Regulations, and air force authorities will be approached regarding a lecturer for identification of airplanes, while the army will be asked to provide a speaker to describe methods for handling time and delayed action bombs.

About 30 officers will take the course, three being selected from each A.R.P. district. Examinations will be marked by Inspector S. F. M. Moodie of the Advisory Council, Provincial Civilian Protection Committee.

Lions See 1943 As Difficult Year

SVERRE N. OMDAHL

The coming year will be the most difficult in the history of the Lions International, Sverre N. Omdahl, deputy district governor of Lions International, District 19, told the Victoria club at its last luncheon.

Mr. Omdahl said all service clubs should now unite in a concentrated effort to support the home front. Before any second front could be established, the first, or home front, would have to be reinforced and that this job could be performed by the ef-

Local Naval Nurse Weds Archbishop's Son in Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—Unique in the annals of the Church of England in Canada was the wedding which took place at St. James' Cathedral, Saturday afternoon, when Rev. Randall Stringer, son of the late Archbishop Stringer of Rupert's Land, and Miss Edith Harding, daughter of Archbishop M. M. Harding, present Archbishop of Rupert's Land, and the late Mrs. Harding, were married by Most Rev. D. T. Owen, Archbishop of Toronto.

Rev. and Mrs. Stringer will sail at the end of September from Prince Rupert for the Yukon, where Mr. Stringer has been called to the church in Selkirk.

Mrs. Stringer, who is a graduate of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, has been for the last four months a nursing sister in the Naval Hospital at Esquimalt.

Victoria Women's Institute will meet tomorrow afternoon to arrange their fall program. Members are asked to kindly attend and co-operate with suggestions for work.

Social and Personal

Mrs. J. K. Cornwall and family, who have been spending the summer months at Mrs. Gertrude Huntly Green's home, 434 Grafton Street, Esquimalt, are returning to their former address, "The Oaks," 2275 Oak Bay Avenue, Tuesday. Mrs. Huntly Green, who exchanged residences with Mrs. Cornwall for the summer, will return to Grafton Street tomorrow.

Miss Hilda Newton, whose marriage to Mr. George Dawson will take place shortly, was honored by a surprise miscellaneous shower given by Miss Freda Green at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Green, 324 Moss Street, Friday evening. At the close of a musical contest Mrs. Paul Green played the wedding march, to the strains of which a mock bridal couple entered the room. Miss Margaret Fuller was the groom, both carrying in their arms many useful gifts for the popular bride-to-be.

Mrs. Prescott Cookingham of Portland, and her two daughters, the Misses Cynthia and Biana Cookingham, after spending a few days in Victoria as guests at The Sussex, left yesterday for their home in Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley F. Bulley, Dufferin Avenue, and their son, Roger, who have been spending a couple of months at their summer home at Sassenos, returned to their home here this afternoon.

Mr. Frank Higgins, Quadra Street, has returned from a trip to the interior of the province during which time he visited at Jasper on his way to Tweedsmuir Park and on his return to Prince Rupert.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Paterson of Sicamous have been visiting in the city for the last few days, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Paterson, Craigdarroch. The son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Paterson, Mr. H. M. Paterson Jr., is married to the former Alvin Bruhn, daughter of the late Hon. Rolf W. Bruhn, Minister of Public Works, who died suddenly Sunday at his home in Vancouver.

Miss Ella Monk, who will leave shortly for Washington, D.C., to join the staff of the British Purchasing Commission, was the guest of honor when the Misses Rosa Stone, Evelyn Bruce, Peggy White and Frances West entertained at the tea hour at the Empress Hotel Saturday afternoon. Miss Monk received a fragrant corsage bouquet of roses, and the table was centred with pink and white carnations.

About 30 friends gathered Sunday afternoon to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. C. Wright, 306 Robertson Street, on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary. Two large baskets of gladioli were used in the decoration of the rooms and during the afternoon Mrs. Irene McColm sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. A. Southall. A lovely lace cloth, one of the many gifts presented to Mr. and Mrs. Wright, was used to cover the tea table which was arranged with bowls of flowers and pink tapers in silver holders.

Miss Doreen Harrison was the guest of honor on Friday evening at a bathroom shower given by Miss Helen Cotton at the home of Mrs. W. Findlay, Cook Street. Upon her arrival, the bride-to-be was presented with a corsage of white baby gladioli and larkspur. Her mother, Mrs. J. W. Harrison, was also presented with a corsage of varicolored African daisies. The many useful gifts were concealed in a decorated gift box. Later in the evening refreshments were served buffet style. Those present were: Mesdames J. W. Harrison, W. Levy, C. Copeland, C. Thompson, A. Ockwell, W. Findlay and the Misses Kay Rendle and Isobel Barnes.

Weddings

KENT-GOLLINGS

Rev. T. G. Griffiths officiated at the marriage recently of Miss Nellie Gollings, 3416 Maplewood Avenue, and Mr. W. E. Kent, Victoria. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Smith attended.

KERKHAM-YEATES

St. Luke's Church was the scene of a quiet wedding Thursday evening, when Grace Noreen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yeates, Hall Street, Oak Bay, became the bride of Roy Bernard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustine Kerkham, Thurlow Road. Rev. Mr. F. Pike officiated.

To the strains of the wedding march the bride entered the church on her father's arm. She wore a powder blue floor-length dress with a shoulder-length veil draped from her pale pink cap, blending with the colors of the roses and carnations in her colonial bouquet. Her bridesmaid, Miss Dorothy E. Palmer, wore a pale mauve chiffon dress, pale pink colonial hat, and matching bouquet of sweet peas and carnations.

Mrs. Yeates was dressed in a black gown with matching maroon accessories and wore a corsage of roses. Mrs. Kerkham was gowned in black, trimmed with lime yellow, with matching accessories and wore a corsage of roses. The groom was attended by W. A. Duncan.

A quiet wedding supper was held in the lower dining-room of the Beach Hotel. Rev. Mr. Pike proposed the toast to the bride.

For her going-away costume, the bride chose a grey tailored suit with matching blue accessories.

KEEN-LENNARTZ

Ven. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunn celebrated the marriage Saturday evening at 8 in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, between Georgette Albertine Ramonde, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Lennartz, 1629 Amphion Street, and L.A.C. Lewis Arthur Keen, R.C.A.F., elder son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Keen, 124 Caribou Road, North Vancouver. Mr. F. T. C. Wickett played the organ and Miss Elsie Lamb, Vancouver, sang "O Perfect Love" as the register was being signed.

The bride was given away by her father and wore a gown of white silk jersey with floor-length skirt, sweetheart neck, short sleeves, and a tight waistline trimmed with self embroidery. A coronet of tiny white blossoms caught her veil of illusion net that fell to the hem of her skirt and she carried an all-white bouquet of carnations, gladioli and swainsons. Her only ornament was a gold and blue pearl pendant surmounted by the groom's R.C.A.F. crest.

Miss Joyce Lennartz was her sister's only attendant, in a floor-length frock of forget-me-not blue organza, embellished with white chenille flowers, the skirt trimmed with circular gathering and the bodice with blue velvet bows. Her wide-brimmed hat was of blue straw with a veil attached beneath the crown and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations and white asters. Mr. Norman Attwaters, Vancouver, was best man, and acting as ushers were Mr. Ralph Keen, Vancouver, and Mr. Albert Vey, Victoria.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. Simister, 723 Oliver Street, where the bride and groom stood before a fireplace banked with pastel-shaded asters, gladioli and carnations to welcome their guests. Mrs. Lennartz received, wearing a black gown trimmed with silver and a black model hat, assisted by Mrs. Keen dressed in blue with large-trimmed blue felt hat. Their corsage bouquets were of Briarcliffe and Johanna Hill roses, respectively. Shallow vases of white gladioli blossoms decorated the candle-lit supper table, covered by a lace cloth and centred with a three-tier wedding cake.

The bride changed to a two-piece frock of turquoise blue wool jersey, a white off-the-face hat and white accessories, before leaving for Linda Court, Mariborough Street, where the young couple will take up residence.

In addition to the bridegroom's parents, guests at the wedding included his brother and sister, Mr. Ralph Keen and Miss Doris Keen, Mr. Raymond Gravin, Mrs. R. Hanna, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Curry, Youbou; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ward and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brethour, and Mrs. Redvers Smith and her son, Mr. Redvers Smith Jr., Sidney.

St. Matthias' W.A. will meet at the invitation of Mrs. Anson D. Mann at her home, 644 Linden Avenue, Wednesday, from 3 to 4.30 p.m. Mrs. C. D. Schofield is to be the guest speaker and her subject: "Wartime Gardens." Refreshments will be served.

Married in Toronto

Mrs. Michael Stirling (nee Russell).

A former Victoria girl, who left with her mother for Toronto last year and who was standard-bearer for the Navy League Chapter, I.O.D.E., while here, was the bride at a smart naval wedding at St. James Cathedral, Toronto, recently between Sheelagh, daughter of Mrs. F. X. Russell and the late Maj. F. X. Russell of Victoria and Duncan, V.I., and Lieut. Michael Stirling, R.C.N., son of Hon. Grote Stirling, M.P., and the late Mrs. Stirling of Vernon.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Lieut. Patrick F. X. Russell, R.C.N., wore a trained gown of white satin. Her veil, knee-length in front, tapered off to a train. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and white lilies. The matron-of-honor, Mrs. P. Russell, Foul Bay Road.

F. X. Russell, chose a Madonna blue floor-length dress with matching skull cap and shoulder-length veil. Miss Anne Morton of England and Miss Colette Mull-hollen of Toronto were bridesmaids, gowned alike in white chiffon frocks with skull caps of flowers and shoulder-length veils. They carried pink gladioli.

Lieut. Robert Murdoch, R.C.N., of Victoria, was the best man and the ushers were Lieut. Kingsley Rowe of Victoria and Lieut. William Brown of Ottawa.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. F. X. Russell, 126 Heath Street. Following a honeymoon spent at Britannia Lodge, Muskoka Lakes, Lieut. and Mrs. Stirling will reside in Ottawa. The bride is a niece of Maj. and Mrs. W. R. Russell, Foul Bay Road.

Be Ready for School Re-opening

The boy and girl commencing the fall term will need new clothes which are sturdy yet good looking. Parents will please them by purchasing necessary items at W. & J. Wilson, and will be satisfied they are getting the best in English clothing.

If your boy needs a Suit, he'll be proud of one tailored in English GREY FLANNEL. A useful alternative is an imported TWEED JACKET and FLANNEL SLACKS combination.

We know he would enjoy a BRAEMAR SWEATER ... and Socks by JAEGER and MORLEY will stand up to the hard wear they will receive.

A TRENCH COAT of English gabardine is a necessity ... colors, NAVY, BLUE and TAN.

The young lady will be delighted with the style of our English clothing ... and mother will be pleased with the value. There is nothing smarter than a Tweed Coat by BARRAN'S, and their fine fabric guarantees the most in wear.

Every girl wants a BRAEMAR SCOTCH KNIT Twin Sweater Set ... and a SCOTCH KILT is so useful and smart both for study hours or playtime.

Parents will be pleased to know the surprisingly moderate cost to outfit youngsters with this finer English and Scotch-made apparel.

$380 Realized On Heather Day

Departure from Victoria of the first overseas contingent in the last war was marked Saturday by the sale of heather in the city streets by the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., and realized $380, a sum slightly in excess of last year's receipts.

Mrs. Bertha Parsons was general convener with Mrs. A. S. Warrender in charge in Oak Bay, and Mrs. D. J. Mugford in Esquimalt, and the headquarters were at 202 Union Building. Miss Jaffray served refreshments to more than 50 taggers and workers in the Greater Victoria district. Early in the afternoon Mrs. R. B. McMicking, honorary regent and founder of the chapter, arrived at the headquarters and was welcomed by the regent, Mrs. A. S. Christie, and other members of the committee. Several veterans of the first overseas contingent dropped in, signed the register and stayed to have a chat.

The customary bouquet of heather was sent during the day to the mayor's office, being part of the generous annual shipment which is sent from Ucluelet by Mr. George Fraser.

The Ministering Circle of the King's Daughters will meet in the rooms next Friday at 3.

MRS. WILLIAM FERGUSON AND ANNE

Lieut. William Ferguson, R.C.N.V.R., with his wife, the former Doreen Cattroll, and baby daughter, above, is on leave from Halifax, N.S. They arrived today from Vancouver where they have been the guests of his mother, Mrs. Graham Ferguson, and will visit Mrs. Ferguson's parents, Captain and Mrs. J. H. Cattroll, St. Charles St. Lieut. Ferguson is a brother of Mrs. Mortimer Duffus of Vancouver, who with her husband is serving overseas, she being with the British "Wrens."

Canadian Kiddies Taller, Heavier Than Americans

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian children—taller and heavier than those in England, Scotland and the United States—continue to gain in stature, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics revealed today.

The bureau report makes comparisons between surveys conducted in 1923 and 1939, and finds "a remarkable increase in the stature and weight of children during the 16 years."

GAIN INCHES

"It is found that the excess in height of children in 1939 over 1923 amounts to from one to two inches between the ages of seven and 13, said the report.

"A five-year-old boy in 1939 was .8 of an inch taller on the average than a boy of the same age in 1923, while a five-year-old girl is one-half inch taller.

"This variation increases steadily with age up to a point where a 14-year-old boy of today is as tall as a 15-year-old in 1923, and a 13-year-old girl today is only about one-half inch shorter than a 15-year-old girl in 1923.

"Weights, it is found, follow the same general trends as height."

The report was prepared by the bureau in co-operation with the Toronto Hospital for Sick Children, and the Toronto Department of Health. The survey covered children ranging in age from five to 15 years and provided an up-to-date table of average heights and weights for Canadian schoolchildren, superseding a record based on the 1923 survey.

BIGGER-THAN BRITISH

The report said Canadian schoolchildren are considerably taller and heavier than average English and Scottish children, and slightly taller and heavier than American children.

The influence of environmental factors on the build of children was studied.

The report said: "Some factors which are found to affect the build of children are:

"The occupation of the father, whether the family is or is not assisted by direct relief, whether the school which the child attends is located in a relatively poor or a relatively prosperous district, the birthplace of the parent and the physical defects of the child."

An analysis of the academic standing of the child revealed that normal, that is nearly physically perfect children, are more advanced in school than are abnormal children.

AUTUMN LEAVES

—yes, a definite gap in a lady's wardrobe—betwixt and between, not quite Winter, but certainly not Summer. What to do? The loveliest and easiest answer to your between Season problem is to see the scrumptious models now showing at Scurrahs. First Feature is youthfulness, but there are any number of other things to recommend them, too. The loveliest, mouth-watering shades in softest wools—Rabbit's Wool, Wool Creses, Jerseys. And you'll exclaim over the cunning little Velveteen Corduroy Suits that go from business to dinner so nonchalantly. There's a cut and style for every figure, too, from the sophisticated peg-top model to the youthful dirndl—and the trimmings! Novelty embroideries and buttons galore, just the right touch in the right place. Sizes in these new arrivals range from 11 to 19 and 14 to 42, and prices start 'way down at

FOLLOWING UP that suggestion we made Saturday about the baseball league promoting a game for the benefit of war charity we took the time to interview several of the managers of the clubs and found them only too willing to give the affair their complete support. And all were of the same opinion as we that baseball should hold up its end in making some contribution to such a worthy cause.

Bert Nex, manager of the Pitzer and Nex club declared himself solidly behind the idea. "I have thought about it several times during the season but never got around to taking some definite action," P.O. Bob Dewhurst, manager and coach of the Navy club declared: "You bet we should do something and I know all the players would only be too willing to give their support. But the game must be put on right after the playoffs, so as to get the fans while they are still baseball-conscious." Pat Steele, manager of the Victoria Machinery Depot and Bill Bridgwood, actively interested in the Eagles club were of the same opinion. So with the clubs behind such a plan there would be little doubt of its successful promotion.

Little incident cropped up during Friday night's senior ball league playoff game, between the V.M.D. and Navy, that officials should make every effort to see never happens again. During a play at first base when Wally Thompson, Navy third baseman was thrown out to make a deliberate attempt to strike first sacker Babe Work. Thompson was warned by Umpire Eddie Newman, while Work told him off. The act came as a distinct surprise to everyone, as the feeling between the players of the respective clubs has always been of the best. The rivalry and ribbing is keen but after it is all over, a great spirit of good fellowship exists between the boys. It would be a shame for some petty act to cause hard feelings. We imagine Thompson didn't feel any too good when those boos greeted him on his next appearance at the plate.

So promoter Jack Price is going to show Kenny Lindsay in Victoria in a so-called Canadian bantamweight championship fight against Jackie Turner. We are not surprised that Price is going to bring Lindsay over here. The Vancouver scrapper is all through as a main event in his own backyard. Those two defeats at the hands of Lou Salica and Tony Olivera finished little Kenneth as a box office attraction. Reading an item in the Vancouver Sun which describes Price returning to Vancouver and stating the Victoria sports writers suggesting Turner as an opponent for Lindsay makes us smile. Price must have reached up into the sky for that idea. We have yet to meet the smooth-talking promoter and certainly never put a word in for any Lindsay-Turner fight.

His many friends in Victoria will be pleased to learn of the splendid golf being played in England by Dr. G. B. Bigelow, former member of the Victoria Club. Dr. Bigelow left for overseas a year ago and since arriving has found time to get in some smart rounds in Birmingham. Recently he broke the course record of one club, shooting a 67 over a par 73 layout. He has now been asked to play an exhibition match with a prominent professional in aid of the Red Cross.

Lacrosse Windup

Services Get Cup

They gave the Little and Taylor silver mug, emblematic of the city senior lacrosse championship, to the United Services team at the end of the third-period in Saturday night's lacrosse game. It was the last game of the season, and the Bays-Douglas Ties, Ted Menzies' three-year champions, who had been beaten into oblivion by Services in the three preceding games of the best of seven series, were the ones who relinquished the cup.

For this last game Menzies bolstered his team with four Oakes players and just lost the fixture, 16 to 13. Ted invited Bill McCaghey, Marty Turnquist, Eric Lea and Freddy Ranson to play for him and made the game just an exhibition, to give the fans their money's worth.

At the end of that third period both teams lined up on the floor and W. C. Moresby, K.C., one of three men in Victoria who were responsible for the installation of the boxed game in the city five or six years ago, presented the cup to Services' captain, veteran George Urquhart, former star of the Canadian champion St. Kitts outfit.

The actual game was one of the best of the season. Anybody's decision until the last minute of play, the teams went at it tooth and nail, just as if it were a real playoff to fixture. With two minutes to go, and Services leading 14 to 13, the winners' mammoth defenceman, Jesse James, barged his way along the boards and let go a backhand flip from almost parallel to the goal to score one of those so-called impossible shots. Only a man like Jesse could do that. Then with one second left, sharpshooter Jack Williams was given a penalty shot after being stopped in a slightly illegal fashion by Bays defenceman Al McFadden. Of course Jack didn't miss.

The rest of the game was close the whole way. Bays outscored Services four goals to three in the first quarter, and then were outscored five to four in the second canto, to leave the tally 8 to 8 at the half. In a wild and woolly third quarter, Services got a two-goal edge in 10 goals scored. In the last quarter they flipped home those last two shots in the dying seconds to outscore Menzies squad 2 to 1. Freddy Ranson got the single Bay tally.

OAKS MAKE DIFFERENCE
Those four Oaks players were just what the Bays-Douglas Ties needed to make a game of it. Teamed with Ferguson and Andy Oucharik they really passed the ball and supplied most of the scoring punch. That line got 10 of the 13 Bay goals, and Oaks players got seven of those. The hard checking and liberal slashing led to one brief flurry in the first period when Joe Bryant and Archie Dixon tangled. They let go a few punches from short range, but didn't seem to have their hearts in their work. Each got 10 minutes.

High scorer for the Services was Kenny Featherstone with four goals, all underhand cannon shots. Tony Worsencroft and Earl McDonald, with three each, followed him. Eric Lea led Bays with four goals, all hard and hot ones just under the top bar. Arnold Ferguson followed with three and one assist. Brynjolfsson and Somers refereed.

In the preliminary, Aces and Oakes played a 9 to 9 tie in the first game of the city juvenile B championship. Down 9 to 3 at the end of the third, Aces, led by shift Albert Denoni, scored six goals without a reply. Albert got three.

RACING IN SOUTH

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jerry Giesler, chairman of the California horse racing board, said Saturday the western defence command had granted the Bay Meadows track permission to operate this fall, and that he hoped the same privilege would be extended to Santa Anita for a winter meeting.

Softball in Britain

15,000 Watch Final

LONDON (CP)—There's never been anything like it, this Sunday knockout softball tournament in Hyde Park that drew an estimated 15,000 persons throughout the day.

As many Britons glimpsed the game for the first time — and liked it—R.C.A.F. overseas headquarters and teams from four Canadian squadrons made up the draw with headquarters winning the final 6 to 4, from a squadron whose commander is Sqdn. Ldr. R. F. Begg of Vancouver.

The finest performance of the day came when Cpl. Tom Buckle of Vancouver, patrolling centre field for the losers, snared a hard-hit fly ball with one hand as he tripped and fell while running at full speed. He turned a somersault and came up with the ball. The crowd gave him an ovation. They hadn't seen anything like that before.

Alsab, Whirly Register Wins

CHICAGO (AP)—Alsab, $700 bargain colt owned by Mrs. Albert Sabath of Chicago, climaxed a brilliant comeback Saturday by winning the $79,400 American Derby before 35,000 spectators at Washington Park.

With Regards, which was not supposed to compete unless the track was muddy or sloppy, ran a surprisingly good race, although no match for Alsab.

Halfway down the backstretch, With Regards was a good dozen lengths in front of Alsab, still in fifth position. Jockey George Woolf, in a magnificent ride, whipped Alsab a couple of times at this point to get him started. For a moment it appeared he wasn't going to show his usual powerful finish. Then he started coming.

Going into the stretch turn, Alsab was gaining with every stride. Then he got a break. With Regards, still in front, went wide at the stretch turn. Valinda Orphan, anticlimax and Rounders, who were in the second flight of horses directly behind With Regards, also drifted out.

Woolf grabbed the chance. He sent Alsab through a wide hole on the rail and Alsab came whirling.

SURPRISES FANS

CAMDEN, N.J. (CP)—Whirlaway won the $10,000 added Trenton Handicap at Garden State Park Saturday, as everybody expected, but he surprised the crowd by becoming a front runner instead of demonstrating his famous stretch drive.

The long-tailed Calumet entry, who jumped his total earnings to $467,036 with the winner's purse of $8,500, was given a rousing battle by George E. Widener's Rosetown, but crossed the finish a length ahead of the Widener mare. Miss Helen Hickman's Aonbarr was third, a nose behind Rosetown, with Mrs. C. S. Bromley's In Question fourth and last.

SWEETS STAKES

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP)—Devil's Thumb, the bargain basement son of Grand Slam, rounded up his grand slam of Saratoga's ancient racing features for juveniles Saturday.

The youngster who was picked up for $3,000 at the yearling sales a year ago by W. E. Boeing, airplane manufacturer, came from far back to take the 38th running of The Hopeful for his fifth straight victory of the month-long meeting, and boosted his earnings to $62,875.

Baseballers Hold Picnic—Pig Stolen

Officials of the Victoria Baseball Association would love to get their hands on the person who stole their pig.

The baseballers along with their friends gathered 500 strong at Beaver Lake Sunday for the annual outing and one of the feature events was to be a greasy pig competition. But when the officials went to look for the porker he had vanished, crate and all.

But everybody had a good time with sports for children and adults.

Aldermen Duncan McTavish and W. H. Davies paid a visit to the grounds during the day.

Prizes were presented by Bill Cull, president of the association.

Dodgers Really Pressed

Cards 3 Games Back

Like cuffless trousers and ceiling prices, that pennant duel between the Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals—which most folks figured would get here sooner or later—finally has arrived.

After coasting along in the comparative safety of a lengthy lead through most of the National League campaign, the Dodgers found themselves separated from the threatening Cardinals today by nothing more than three short games.

Perhaps as responsible for the Brooklyn slump as anything is the leg injury of centre fielder Pete Reiser, which has put the National League batting leader in the hospital after hobbling for nearly two weeks.

Pistol Pete, who has failed to get a hit in his last 15 official trips to the plate, finally was sent to Johns Hopkins Sunday night for treatment of a torn ligament in his left thigh.

The Dodgers fired both barrels at the Pittsburgh Pirates Sunday and came away with nothing better than an even break, while the Cardinals swept a doubleheader with the Boston Braves for a total of 19 victories in 22 games.

Whitlow Wyatt pitched the Dodgers to a 3 to 1 decision in the opener, but Larry French failed to last through the first inning of the nightcap as the Bucs pounded him and three relievers for a dozen hits and triumphed, 9 to 5.

Vinny DiMaggio drove in five Pittsburgh runs in the second game. The Cardinals beat the Braves, 8 to 3, in their first game. The second went 11 innings before Harry Gumbert, who pitched two hit ball in five innings of relief, doubled for the run that won for him and the Cards, 3 to 2.

The Cincinnati Reds beat the Philadelphia Phils, 2 to 0 and 8 to 5.

The New York Giants downed the Chicago Cubs, 8 to 6, in the first game but the second ended in a 5 to 5 deadlock with darkness halting play after nine innings, during which manager Mel Ott of the Giants made the 2,500th hit of his major league career.

In the American League, the St. Louis Browns sold with the Boston Red Sox while the Yankees were winning a pair from the Detroit Tigers. Red Ruffing pitched five-hit ball to beat the Tigers 7 to 1 in the first game but it took a 10th-inning single by pinch hitter George Selkirk to decide the second for the Yanks 4 to 3.

John Niggeling hurled the Browns to a 4 to 1 first-game victory, beating the Red Sox for the fifth time this year. The Sox bounced back to take the second 12 to 6.

COAST LEAGUE

The third place Seattle Rainiers jerked themselves out of a bad slump and swept a twin bill from San Francisco in Coast League play Sunday after losing four straight games, but the Seals still copped the series 4 to 3.

The Rainiers called on veteran Hal Turpin for a 7 to 2 victory in the opener and curve ball specialist Carl Fisher for the 4 to 1 nightcap win.

Meanwhile, Sacramento crept slowly up on Los Angeles principally because of the way the Solons used their bats on Hollywood in two doubleheaders over the week-end.

The Stars escaped with only one game—one of the pair allowed them in the seven-game series—the opener Saturday, a 5 to 4 affair. Sacramento won the afterpiece 14 to 2 and then used three home runs to advance to sweep the Sunday twin bill by one run margins—9 to 8 and 2 to 1.

Los Angeles beat out cellar-dwelling Portland 5 to 3 in the series and 2 to 1 in week-end play. The Angels squeezed through Saturday 5 to 4 and 1 to 0 in a thrilling 10-inning opener Sunday. Portland won the nightcap 8 to 6.

Nubs Kleinke hurled a one-hitter as Oakland defeated San Diego 2 to 0 in a Sunday nightcap after the Padres had won the opener 6 to 5.

Glen Gray Wins Title at Banff

BANFF, Alta. — Seventeen-year-old Glen Gray, Edmonton, climaxed a brilliant week of golf Saturday by winning the Banff Springs Hotel trophy and the championship of Banff's 13th annual golf week.

The husky Edmontonian won 10 and 8 from H. T. Randall, Hamilton, Ohio, the match ending on the 28th green of their scheduled 36-hole final.

Eight up when the morning round finished, Gray fired par golf to take the title by the most decisive margin in the tournament's history.

Mrs. John Beck, the former Hilda McAusland, Seattle, took a 1-up victory on the 17th green from Miss Paddy Arnold of Calgary, to win the Chateau Lake Louise event.

Miss Ginger Dravis, Tacoma, picked up the Associated Screen News event, 18 holes of medal play on handicap, with a net 75 and Bob Crosby of Banff, won the Willingdon trophy also 18 holes on handicap with a net 68.

Other final results included: Ninth flight, T. R. Anson, Vancouver, defeated Dr. E. D. Hetherington, Victoria, 6 and 5; fifth flight, Miss Eileen Pendray, Victoria, defeated Mrs. B. F. Shearer, Seattle, 1 up.

Oak Bay Golfers Win Over Colwood

By the healthy margin of 24 points golfers from the Victoria Club defeated Colwood representatives in the annual match for the Biggerstaff Wilson trophy, the second-half of which was played Sunday.

In the second half Colwood scored a two-point win, losing the A match 11 to 5 but winning the B team engagement 12 to 4. However, Victoria had previously won the first half 29 to 3, and took the match by a point score of 44 to 20.

Grid Demise Helps Boxla

Big Playoff Boost

By SCOTT YOUNG

TORONTO (CP)—The strategic retreat of football from sports prominence in eastern Canada may give box lacrosse its most successful playoff run in years.

Canadian semifinals will be played in Montreal, with the western champion meeting the Quebec provincial titlist. The winner will move on to Toronto to meet the Ontario representative for the Mann Cup and the Canadian crown.

In previous years lacrosse finals in the east drew well, but were passed by that goodly section of the sports populace more interested in football. This gate-reducing factor will be much weaker this season, with the Ontario Rugby Football Union only major eastern football organization in the field. Lacrosse will fill the gap for many fans.

The lacrosse will be at least as good, perhaps better than previous years. Quebec boxla is stronger, because many hockey players—amateur and professional—took work in Quebec war industries this spring instead of returning to their native environs. Quebec boxla has a backbone of hockey stars.

IMPROVES IN ONTARIO
Ontario lacrosse started out poorly, but has improved tremendously. The Mann Cup champion St. Catharines Athletics looked extremely sad at the beginning of the season, but finished with seven wins in their last eight games. Athletics are hot test of Ontario's five boxla clubs right now and the heat may last long enough to send them back into the Canadian finals.

But it looks from this point like British Columbia's year in lacrosse. Vancouver Burrards or Norvans, New Westminster Salmonbellies or Victoria United Services will represent the coast. The B.C. champion should beat Quebec on polish alone and probably will have a slight edge on Ontario's hope.

Dean Griffing, Regina's colorful football impresario, was in Edmonton last week. He's purchasing agent for a Prince Albert, Sask., firm engaged in war work. Bill (Haltax Herald) Bartlett reports that the lacrosse to be played in Halifax this fall will be a new variation. It will be played on a field on which a reasonable facsimile of a box lacrosse floor has been marked, but there will be no sideboards.

Two up and one to go, the Victoria Machinery Depot ball club is expected to throw Jimmy Rattlesnake, elongated Indian southpaw hurler, at the Navy in tonight's third game of the city championship baseball series. Starting time is 6.15.

Saturday night the shipyarders, behind the five-hit pitching of another left-hander, Ronnie Gervais, registered a walkover victory over the bluejackets 11 to 3. Friday night, they copped the opener 3 to 0.

From here in it is a case of do or die with the Navy boys and it is likely they will rely on the husky right arm of Jimmy Dumeach to pull them through tonight. Dumeach is the lad who hurled a smart came in the opener, only to suffer defeat.

The same as Friday night it was superior power at the plate that finally paid off Saturday. V.M.D. collected a total of 12 base knocks, including three for extra bases, off two Navy hurlers, Mel Intyre and Davies. Jinks worked

Hugh Reston Second

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver swimmers captured both the men's and women's one mile Wrigley swims, carrying the British Columbia championships for the distance, here Saturday.

Doug McQuaig won the men's event in 25.48.4. He finished 25 yards in front of Hugh Reston of Victoria, with Don Wryzkowski of Kelowna, B.C., a close third. McQuaig led from the start.

The women's miles was an all-Vancouver finish with Audrey Aetzel first, Stella Wintermute second and Joan Ashley third. Miss Aetzel's time was 32.29.

R.A.F. Cricketers Easily Beat Albions

Royal Air Force continued along its unbeaten path in the Saturday League of the Victoria and District Cricket Association Saturday, soundly trouncing Albions 170 to 51 and five wickets.

In the other game Army beat Navy 73 to 51.

The airmen went to bat on a perfect wicket and two of their opening batsmen, Green and Mundy, spent an hour and 20 minutes at the wickets to score 153 runs between them. Green got 79, Mundy 76. That just about tucked the game away.

Thornor topped the bowlers with four wickets for five runs while Boulter took three wickets for a similar number.

Pat Freeman and Stenton were the only Albion players to reach double figures with 15 and 13 runs, respectively. Hoggarth showed the best form of the losing bowlers, taking three wickets for 43 runs.

Paced by Allwood, Harper and Gibbons, who scored between them enough runs to defeat Navy, Army had little trouble gaining their win. That trio scored 54 runs. Pugh and Holmes, with 12 runs each, were the only sailor batsmen to reach double figures.

Gibbons took eight wickets for 19 runs, while Holmes took six for 23.

Franworth In Fourth Position

SEATTLE (AP)—Lavengro, seven-year-old black sprinter owned by the Eltates Stable of Seattle, won the eighth running of the $10,000 added Longacres Mile Sunday by three lengths, equalling the track record of 1.35 3/5.

Sir Winsome, a four-year-old sensation from Agua Caliente, was second; Valinda Eterno, Texas-bred, four-year-old, was third, and Franworth, five-year-old Canadian champion, owned by Jack Diamond of Vancouver, B.C., fourth.

Campus Fisser, last year's winner, was last in the field of 13 horses. Jockey Johnny Adams, Iola, Kas., the nation's second-ranked rider, flew here from Cleveland for the race, but his trip just didn't have it.

In the $2 mutuels, Lavengro paid $5.50, $4.10 and $3.30. Sir Winsome returned $9.90 and $7.20. Valinda Eterno paid $4.40.

NEVER HEADED

Lavengro, with jockey Charlie Ralls of Houston, Tex., up, took the lead at the first turn and was never headed. He carried top weight of 118 pounds, 10 more than Sir Winsome, and six more than Valinda Eterno. Lavengro had two firsts and one second to his credit earlier in the season here plus a victory over Sir Winsome recently in a two-horse match race.

Lavengro was trained by Allen Drumheller, who won the mile in 1938 with Triplane, and bred, raised and trained Campus Fisser for his victory last year.

Vancouver Cinches Baseball Pennant

TACOMA (AP)—Vancouver's Capitanos nailed down the Western International League pennant beyond any mathematical doubt here Sunday by winning the seven-inning second game of a doubleheader 8 to 6 after the Tacoma Tigers had captured the free-hitting opener 17 to 9.

The even break left the Capitanos 11 games ahead of the second-place Tacoma club. Vancouver now has but nine games left on its schedule, while Tacoma has 10 remaining.

It was Vancouver's first pennant in the six years of the W.I.L. circuit's existence. The Capitanos and the Tigers took turns occupying first place until July 19, when Tacoma lost a doubleheader to Spokane and the idle Vancouver club backed into the league lead to stay.

'Benjamin Blake' On Cadet Bill

"Benjamin Blake," the brilliant novel by Edson Marshall which was a Literary Guild selection last year has been made into a film. Entitled "Son of Fury," the story of Benjamin Blake, the film stars Tyrone Power and is playing at the Capitol Theatre.

The publishers of the book sold 200,000 copies for the first printing. A tale of adventure, romance and action, the novel—and the picture—is laid in 18th Century England.

AN ARTIST'S PORTRAIT of Greer Garson and Walter Pidgeon on the set of M-G-M's "Mrs. Miniver," now playing at the Capitol Theatre.

ANNA MAY WONG IN BURMA FILM

Assigned to a dangerous mission by the chief of the Chinese intelligence service, Anna May Wong gives a fine performance in the P.R.C. war drama, "Bombs Over Burma," currently at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres.

The picture is packed with taut suspense which holds the audience to the very end, as Miss Wong in the guise of a school teacher, finally tracks down the Japanese spy who is sending the code messages that result in the bombing of supply trains bound for Chungking as they travel along the Burma Road.

Miss Wong starts her investigation as she boards a bus at the Burma border. In the party aboard the bus are Leslie Denison as Sir Roger Howe; his Indian servant, Frank Lacten; Dennis Moore as an American traffic expert; Judith Gibson as the young daughter of a surgeon in Chungking, and Dan Seymour as a Portuguese mechanic.

That night the bus passengers put up at a wayside monastery in charge of a kindly monk, played by Noel Madison. A convoy is bombed to bits close by, showing that the Japs knew exactly when and where to strike. Young finds someone has stolen the distributor from his engine, so that the party will be forced to stay indefinitely. It is evident that someone in the group is the spy, giving the Japs information. For a time, Miss Wong suspects the monk, when she discovers that he operates a short wave station hidden in a room behind a large image of Buddha.

GARSON, PIDGEON, PERFECTLY CAST

"Mrs. Miniver," Jan Struther's best-selling novel, dealing with the high courage of the English middle classes under air raids and war terrors, is brought to the screen as a living, breathing reality by Greer Garson, Walter Pidgeon and a perfectly chosen cast in the M-G-M picture now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

The story deals with Mrs. Miniver and her husband, Clem, played by Miss Garson and Pidgeon, teamed for the second time since "Blossoms in the Dust." Their son, at Oxford, joins the R.A.F. and becomes engaged to the granddaughter of a noblewoman of the village in which they live. How they do their best to carry on life as usual; their bravery under raid alarms; how the older men aided at the rescue at Dunkerque; figure in moving human interest episodes—mingled with comedy. The destruction of the village by bombers is climaxed by the villagers, in their wrecked church, inspired by their vicar, resolving to "carry on" with the same cool courage and with an abiding faith.

5 BLACK CROWS WIN DISNEY FAME

First there were three blind mice, then three little pigs, then the Seven Dwarfs; and now Walt Disney introduces five black crows in his new feature-length production, "Dumbo," released by RKO Radio and now at the York Theatre.

These crows are wisecracking birds who speak in a warm, rich negro accent and they promise to be as popular as the other memorable comedy teams Disney has drawn for the delight of the world.

The ringleader of the crows is a jaunty, barrel-chested, cigar-puffing, hat-over-the-eye bird who first laughs at little said-eared Dumbo, shy hero of the picture, and who then, taking pity, teaches him a trick or two about flying.

The by-play of the five crows is based on the negro's natural spontaneous comedy sense. They do a dance as they sing "I Be Done Seen 'Bout Everything When I See an Elephant Fly" (yes, you read it correctly), which is just about as funny a piece of hi-jinks as Disney has ever created. Midway between a shimmy, a cakewalk, the breakdown and the shag, the dance is one of the high spots in "Dumbo."

'JOAN OF PARIS' ATLAS FEATURE

Alex Granach's role in "Joan of Paris," drama of romantic adventure now at the Atlas Theatre, is one of the most sinister ever shown on a screen, but he never utters a word and he never makes a threatening gesture.

For more than 1,000 feet of film, Granach follows Paul Henreid, starring as a Free French flyer shot down with his R.A.F. squadron near Paris. At all times, Granach could shoot his victim or capture him, but he wants Henreid to lead him to the other four fliers.

Director Robert Stevenson used an amazing and suspenseful technique in picturing this chase.

Conspiracy Charge Continues

Officer Told to List Boots Not Delivered

Robert Hugh Leonard, B.C. Police constable attached to the police stores, testified today he had been asked by former quarter-master L. J. Simmons to list high boots on requisitions covering supplies he had sent to constables but which had not included that footwear, as the preliminary hearing of Simmons and Joseph Arthur Walsh, managing director of Wm. Cathcart Co. Ltd., charged with conspiracy to defraud, continued in city police court.

The constable was given a file of requisitions and asked to identify them. They were white and yellow sheets purporting to list summer uniforms sent to 170 constables. He had parcelled and sent the uniforms and made out the sheets in duplicate, he said, sending the yellow ones to the constables to receipt. The documents produced in court showed the white sheets, kept on record by the stores department, to include notations calling for high boots with each parcel. He had not made that notation and had not sent the boots, he said.

"I do not know who put it on the form," he testified.

In the early winter of 1941 he had been called to the Simmons home while Mr. Simmons was on sick leave, witness testified. Present with Mr. Simmons was another government official, F. Bridge. On that occasion Mr. Simmons had asked the witness to fill in high boots on the summer issue requisition list. He had agreed, half-heartedly, since Mr. Simmons was his boss, but had not made the entry, Constable Leonard said. As he left, he testified, Mr. Bridge had told him to be sure to do what Mr. Simmons had said.

Later he had again gone to the Simmons home and taken certain vouchers he had been instructed to secure from Mr. Moses, paymaster.

At adjournment the constable was still on the stand under direct examination by J. B. Clearhugh, K.C., who appears with W. C. Moresby, K.C., for the crown.

Much of the morning was taken up with identification of signatures of Mr. Simmons and Mr. Walsh on certain standard documents as well as requisition forms, vouchers, and in the case of Mr. Walsh, endorsements on cheques. Expert testimony on that point was given by H. E. MacLean, Vancouver.

Returning to the box to present one document allegedly signed by Mr. Simmons, Inspector Cecil Clark underwent cross-examination by P. J. Sinnott, counsel for Simmons, on matters related to acquisition of uniforms and supplies by inspectors and higher officers who receive $100 a year for that purpose.

"It is a fact," said Mr. Sinnott.

"Inspectors get equipment from stores."

"I am not aware of it," replied the inspector, stating he had received green braid and shoulder straps and had secured the loan of riding boots from stores for the Royal visit. As far as the former were concerned he was still waiting a bill for the equipment, he said, in reply to question from Joseph McKenna, counsel for Mr. Walsh.

Corporal J. A. Henry, B.C. Police, gave evidence on a search made July 15, 1942, of the Simmons home, when, among other documents, three vouchers were seized. They were made out to Cathcart's for sums of $2,392.50, $176.45 and $1,600, he said.

John Harvey, deputy controller-general for B.C., returned to the stand to produce vouchers covering the purchase of carbines. Mr. Sinnott said he would produce evidence later to show those vouchers, with others, indicated a system of prepayment by the government for goods needed by the police. The system outlined by Mr. Harvey, whereby payment was made after delivery, was more honored for the breach than the observance," counsel said.

The hearing was adjourned by Magistrate Hall until Wednesday morning.

TOWN TOPICS

Monthly meeting of the parents of the boys of the Victoria Boys' Band will be held Wednesday night at 8 at the City Hall. Band practice for the boys will start again Tuesday.

Ten motorists were fined $2.50 each on parking charges in police court today. Two were fined $15 each for speeding. One was fined $5 for making unnecessary noise with his horn while another was fined the same amount for failing to observe a traffic light.

Caleb R. Foxwell died in St. Joseph's Hospital at 10 this morning after being found by police 7:10 Sunday evening in his hotel room with a gunshot wound in his left temple. Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, pronounced death by suicide this morning. Mr. Foxwell was a member of the Army and Navy Veterans, and had worked at the Empress Hotel for 30 years. Dr. H. J. Wasson attended. Detective Louis Callon and Constables Robert Hiscock and Stanley Holmes attended the case.

Hongkong Prison Letters Tell Friends Not to Worry

Victoria families with soldier relatives in Hongkong awaited the mailman anxiously today, as letters from Canadian prisoners of the Japanese were expected. Letters from Canadian soldiers reached New York the other day on the liner Gripsholm. They were flown to Canada and specially delivered at the week-end to scores of homes in Quebec and Winnipeg.

A Vancouver woman has received a letter from her husband in Hongkong. She was Mrs. G. Grant, 506 East 13th Avenue. He told his wife he is studying the Japanese language, is acquiring a suntan and "we have quite a bit to interest us."

George Porteous of Saskatoon, who went to Hongkong as a representative of the Y.M.C.A., reported that he was active organizing sports and clubs among the Canadian prisoners. He also said he had a new pastime—learning to play the trombone.

Mr. Porteous was at one time Boys' Work Secretary at the local Y.M.C.A. and played on Canadian and English rugby teams here. He married Miss Mildred Redman, whose mother resides in this city.

WELL CENSORED

The letters, first to arrive in Canada since the fall of the Crown Colony last Christmas Day, told of fathers and sons "alive and well," but all showed strict censorship by the Japanese. Riffin, Melbourne, J. J. Carter, writing to his wife in Toronto, dealt with censorship, saying: "I can't say very much because we are allowed to say only just so much and no more."

It was learned Lt.-Col. W. J. (Billy) Home, officer commanding the Quebec Royal Rifles, is a prisoner and in "good health."

In a letter to his wife, vacationing at Riviere du Loup, Que., he said he expects to be able to write every four weeks. Mrs. Home said the letter was "cheerful."

None of the letters mentioned food, but Pt. George Hallada, 21, a member of the Winnipeg Grenadiers whose home is in Port Arthur, said: "The Japanese are treating us very good... we have nothing to do but pass the time."

Lieut. W. F. Nugent of Lindsay, Ont., who was wounded and spent four months in hospital, reported that he now is "well, hale and hearty; comfortable and enjoying myself." He has a brother, Sgt. Pilot Jack Nugent, a prisoner of war in Germany.

Many of the letters told parents, wives and children "not to worry." Sgt. Robt. John Clayton of Toronto said: "... if you want to help me, please don't worry."

Capt. F. J. Deloughery, the only Canadian Roman Catholic chaplain in Hongkong, said there was "no cause to worry." He, like many other men, wrote that he was well and active.

CRICKET AND BRIDGE

Among the officers of both the Winnipeg Grenadiers and the Quebec Royal Rifles baseball, cricket and bridge help ward off the dreary days of the prison camp.

Maj. John H. Price of the Quebec Royal Rifles said he was getting "plenty of exercise" spending his leisure time at sports, including cricket and baseball.

Bells Pealed For Late Duke

Special reference to the untimely death of H.R.H. the Duke of Kent, who was killed in Scotland last week while flying to Iceland, was made in city churches Sunday.

A half-muffled peal of bells was rung forenoon and evening at Christ Church Cathedral in tribute to the late Duke.

Bishop Sexton read the prayers and Dean Elliott preached at the morning service.

The Dean spoke from the text, 2 Corinthians, 1-5, "As the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also is abundant through Christ."

In the course of his sermon the Dean said: "Our hearts go out to His Majesty the King in the sudden loss of his brother on active service. We think of the widowed Duchess of Kent and the young children and we remember with special tenderness the Queen Mother."

"In that fellowship of bereavement," said the Dean, "they are one with us; we are one with them. Every sorrowing mother or brother, every young widow, every family of fatherless children is included with no dividing line, whatever may be the distinction of rank and title."

At the conclusion of his discourse, the Dean quoted with singular appropriateness the message of the Queen Mother, which Her Majesty issued to the Empire after the death of King George V, ending with the words: "God bless you, dear people, for all the wonderful love and sympathy with which you have sustained me."

Churches of the United Church of Canada and other denominations also made special reference to the late Duke at Sunday's services.

JOE—Mass was celebrated in St. Andrew's Cathedral this morning for Rev. Father J. W. Matte for Joe Dal Yout. Interment at the Chinese Cemetery. McCall Bros. Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

COLEMAN—Funeral services for Louise Ellen Coleman, infant daughter of Sgt. Obs. K. A. Coleman and Mrs. Coleman, 749 McClure Street, were held in the Thomson Funeral Home, Saturday. Interment at Royal Oak.

DOYLE—Ida Doyle, aged 53, wife of Charles Doyle, 3396 Douglas Street, and daughter of the late Capt. and Mrs. D. McIntosh, pioneer Victoria residents, died Saturday. Funeral arrangements are pending and will be announced later by McCall Bros. Funeral Home.

CLARKE—Canon H. V. Hitchcock conducted the funeral service for Mrs. Alice Mary Clarke Saturday afternoon at 4:30 in St. Michael's Church, West Saanich Road. The pallbearers were: P. F. Warren, Richard Ireland, B. Quick and J. G. Peet. Interment at St. Michael's Churchyard. Thomson Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

GIBBS—Mary Ellen Gibbs, aged 63, wife of Arthur Gibbs, Gerda Road, Saanich, died today at St. Joseph's Hospital. Mrs. Gibbs was born in Essex, England, and had lived in Saanich for 30 years. She leaves, besides her husband, a brother and sister in Toronto and two brothers and a sister in England. The remains are at McCall Bros. Funeral Home from where funeral services will be held Wednesday at 3:30. Canon H. V. Hitchcock will officiate. Cremation at Royal Oak.

Pioneer Resident John Flewin Dies

Believed to be the first white child born in the Hudson's Bay Company post in Victoria, John Flewin, 625 Michigan Street, died Friday at the age of 84.

The eldest of eight children, he was the son of Thomas Flewin, who came to Victoria from England aboard the ship Norman Morrison on January 16, 1853. At the age of eight, Mr. Flewin went to school on Fort Street, where Devonshire House now stands, and from there to Collegiate School, of which Rev. Archdeacon Woods was principal.

Among his schoolmates, before his graduation in 1843, were the late Dallas Helmcken, late Dr. J. D. Helmcken, late Magistrate George Jay, late Charles Todd, late Capt. John Irving, C. C. Pemberton, E. E. Wootton and Alex Munro.

Mr. Flewin worked on the tugboat Grappler, later on the Colonist and then with Hayward and Jenkinson, building contractors. For about 40 years Mr. Flewin was employed by the provincial government as government agent at Port Simpson. He was a justice of the peace, at one time a member of the British Columbia Pioneers' Society and a member of the choir of Christ Church Cathedral.

He leaves four sons, Major W. R. Flewin, O.C. at Vernon military camp; Capt. C. B. Flewin at Port Simpson; W. P. Flewin, Prince Rupert, and Coxswain F. C. Flewin, R.C.N.V.R., and two daughters, Mrs. J. C. Butterfield, Saanich, and Mrs. H. A. Roberts, 52 Cadillac Avenue. There are also 13 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Funeral services will be held from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel Tuesday at 2. Canon E. V. Bird will officiate. Interment at Ross Bay.

THOMPSON—The funeral of Joseph Irwin Thompson was held Saturday afternoon in Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel. Rev. T. G. Griffiths officiated. Pallbearers were J. C. Timpany, A. K. Cooke, F. H. Payson, W. G. Edgerton and F. W. Fulton. Interment at Colwood.

JAMES—Funeral services were held Saturday morning in the Church of the Assumption for Mrs. Isabel James, who died at Cole Bay Aug. 27. Rev. Father J. J. Cyr celebrated Mass. Interment was in West Saanich Cemetery. Pallbearers were: Gabriel Bartleman, Moody Henry, August Jimmy and Andrew James. McCall Brothers were in charge of funeral arrangements.

WILLARD—Vera Viola Willard, a native daughter, wife of Norman Willard, died at the family residence, 850 Broughton Street, Saturday. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. George King, Keremeos, B.C., and Mrs. Lester Guy, of this city; two brothers, Raymond and Clarence Ganner; two sisters, Mrs. Edie Ganner, Victoria, and Mrs. D. Dancy, Seattle. Sands Mortuary is in charge of funeral arrangements, which will be held Thursday at 2. Interment at Ross Bay.

Rev. J. R. Fife Leaving for East

Rev. J. R. Fife, B.A., preached his last sermon at Christ Church Cathedral Sunday night. He will leave for the east tonight for army chaplain service, after having been in this city since December, 1939. Mr. Fife was in charge of the parish at Prairie River, Saskatchewan, before coming to Victoria.

A native son of Prince Albert, he took his B.A. degree at the University of Saskatchewan. He was ordained deacon in June, 1935, and priest in 1939.

'Show Was Super-tough'

Royal Roads Men Tell Dieppe Story

By ALAN RANDAL

WITH THE ROYAL CANADIAN NAVY, SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (CP) — "You just can't say too much about the magnificent way Canadian navy men acted—those ratings were tops," said the burly officer.

The officer, Lieut. Jack Koyl of Saskatoon, is one of the Royal Canadian Navy Volunteer Reserve officers serving in combined operations and he was talking about the Dieppe raid before starting a leave.

With him at this R.C.N. shore station was Sub-Lt. W. F. "Dana" Ramsay of Vancouver, another "wavy navy" man who sailed safely through the crazy quilt of screaming shells along Dieppe's shore in the only all-Canadian flotilla of landing craft in this operation.

(Both officers referred to are graduates of the officers' training classes at H.M.C.S. Royal Roads, Victoria. Lieut. Koyl graduated in 1941, while Sub-Lt. Ramsay completed his training and received his commission in May last.

(Lieut. Koyl married Miss Phyllis Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Roberts, former Victorians, here Dec. 19, 1941. He is the son of A. Leon Koyl, prominent Saskatoon businessman. Mrs. Koyl is residing in Winnipeg where her father is with the C.N.R.)

(While attending Royal Roads Lieut. Koyl was a member of the school's rugby team and played in the armistice game at Macdonald Park last year when Royal Roads defeated the army team.)

"Our men were just magnificent," said Ramsay.

Ramsay and Koyl each commanded a landing craft which look members of the Montreal Black Watch ashore.

WELCOMED ACTION

After months of combined operations they and the ratings welcomed a chance to go into action with the Canadian "pongos." (A "pongo" is a soldier in the vernacular of combined-ops men.)

"You should have seen the men when we learned we were going to carry Canadians," said Koyl.

"They shouted, 'Boy, oh boy, let's go.'"

"Long before we got in range of the German guns it was obvious the show was going to be super-tough. The landing craft were still aboard the mother ship when we could see an inshore battle between other vessels and German E-boats."

"The most beautiful sight I ever saw was when we came close to the beach in landing craft. We could see bombers sweeping in over the shore flying at zero height and blasting Dieppe. By that time the Germans were throwing everything they had at us."

"The whole beach was lit up with flares. We took the landing craft right in and I tell you it didn't take those Canadian 'pongos' long to get away. Under cover of our smoke screen they set up Brown guns and we pulled off to wait for the time to go in and get the boys again."

RESCUES AIRMAN

Koyl said it just as casually as that. It might have been another manoeuvre he and Ramsay were talking about. From others at this station came the story of Ramsay racing his landing craft in ahead of a motor launch to pick up a Norwegian airman who had been shot down, and the story of Koyl taking over and bringing back to England the flotilla after the flotilla commander was killed.

In peacetime the 26-year-old Koyl played hockey with Saskatoon Wesleys and later for New York Rovers in the United States Eastern Amateur League and Philadelphia Ramblers of the American League. His wife lives in Winnipeg.

Ramsay, whose dad is a lieutenant in a Canadian armed merchant cruiser, used to build boats in Vancouver shipyards and was a dinghy sailor in peacetime. He is only 20, a long, loose-limbed fellow who looks even younger.

But these two were mostly concerned about how well the ratings, all volunteers for "hazardous duties," worked at Dieppe.

"Those coxswains, stokers and gunners—you never saw anything like it," said Koyl.

"Most of them were prairie sod busters who used to run threshing machines, but they can't be beaten on a job like this. Their job is a tough one. They're all by themselves and haven't much protection. But every time they'd pop up from their station they'd shout 'How're we doing,' then go right back to it and never mind what kind of fire was going on around them," he said.

R.A.F. Planes Set Axis Ships Afire

CAIRO (AP)—R.A.F. bombers and torpedo-carrying planes set two Axis ships on fire and hit at least one other in an attack off the coast of Libya Saturday night and set fire to an oil tanker in the Mediterranean Sunday, a joint headquarters R.A.F. communiqué said today.

The tanker was left "blazing from stem to stern," the communiqué said. The planes also attacked escort vessels with cannon and machine gun fire.

Principal activity in the Mediterranean theatre was aimed at the Axis supply lines. There was nothing but patrol activity reported from the land front.

There were some air fights over the Alamein front, and British fighters shot down at least three Messerschmitts and damaged others, the communiqué said.

Two German bombers were shot down during Axis raids on Allied landing fields.

The rubber that formerly went into one month's supply of babies' rubber pants now makes 2,800 rubber life rafts for the navy.

Blasts Injure 6 of Film Crew

A half dozen members of the acting and technical crew of Lester Cowan's company producing "The Commandos Come at Dawn," carried minor wounds today.

They were suffered from flying metal in the last big sequences at Stacey's which are expected to be completed before the evening.

To simulate the impact of commando machine gun bullets against sandbags behind which Nazis lurked, small charges were placed in the bags. At the required time they were fired electrically. Instead of sandbags, sacks of sawdust were used. They failed to provide adequate resistance to the explosive and metal flew from them. One slug hit John Farrow, director, in his leg.

Another clipped Elizabeth Fraser, actress, in the ear. Assistant director Harve Foster stopped five in the arm, leg and chest.

Mike Lally, stunt man and stand-in for Paul Muni, ducked and caught one in the forehead which would have hit his eye.

Bud O'Malley, cameraman, and Joy Harrington, Mr. Farrow's secretary, also were injured.

The mishap let real blood supplant the stains of the make-up kit in one of the most realistic scenes in the picture.

The characters portrayed by Paul Muni, star, and F.O. "Bob" Coote, leader of the commandos, are scheduled to die today. They will be "killed" in an assault on the Norwegian Inn to which Muni has directed the commandos in a successful effort to free villagers held as hostages by the Nazis. In the course of the action the inn is blown up, following the gun battle in which the director and his aides were actually wounded.

Savage street fighting raged on the set today. Snipers blazed away from vantage points on roofs and windows of the inn. The roar and smoke of explosions poured over the scene and the rattle of machine gun fire reverberated through the hills.

The scene is one of the last in

Stamps Back Dads and Brothers

Just before press time the other day a "Miss Canada" representative walked into the circulation department of the Times to have a talk with the newsboys. In no time at all she was surrounded by a noisy, enthusiastic mob of young Canadians who made it perfectly clear they were saving regularly to buy War Savings Stamps and that they were going to keep on doing so.

Young Joe Richards, spokesman for the rest of the boys, had this to say: "Most of us are still going to public or high school, and we hear a lot about this war savings stuff from our teachers. We hear a lot about it at home, too, so I guess we know we're saving for the future. What we like to think about, though, is that every War Savings Stamp sends 12 bullets to the troops. Some of us have brothers overseas. That kid over there in the corner has a dad in England. Guess if we were in the front lines we'd want to know the folks at home were doing all they could to send us the things we needed to fight with. We'll be buying War Savings Stamps as often as we can, won't we, gang?" There was a roar of assent from all the news carriers as the presses started to roll.

Navy Winner in Service Races

By a total of 19 to 16 points, the navy crew was victorious over the R.C.A.F. in the sail-off of the interservice yachting meet held Sunday under the auspices of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club.

In the elimination events, commencing at 2, the navy beat the army 19 to 10 points, and the R.C.A.F. defeated the R.A.F. by the close margin of one point, the count being 18 to 17.

The fliers were dead even at the finish and in order to break the tie the race went to the R.C.A.F. by the award of one point for a star and snipe win. Stars, dinghies and snipes competed.

Total points gained by each crew were: R.C.A.F. 21, R.A.F. 19, Navy 19 and Army 11, the navy getting the verdict in the sail-off, 19 to 16 points.

A light southeast wind prevailed, the course being the inside quadrilateral, Club dolphin to Patterson Point, to Flower Island, Beach mark and home.

CLOSE SAILING

Some close racing was witnessed between the navy and the R.C.A.F. In the final, but by virtue of firsts and seconds by Lt. Cmdr. Hughes and Sub-Lt. Arbuckle, the navy got the decision. Officers of the day were Maurice Green and Humphrey Golby, Ben Temple was starter and Jack Healey timekeeper.

The service skippers were: Navy, Hughes, Arbuckle, Stevens, Morgan, Turcot, Williams and McCallum; Army, Woodward, Weshuser, Fleming, Beck, Devlin, Pooley and Reed; R.C.A.F., Williams, Diamond, Adams, Clark, Gray, Kelly, Hall and Miss Blake (a nursing sister); R.A.F., Sells, Wells, Curtis, Mitten, Dunn, Spiers and Kidd.

During the afternoon, a C class cruiser race was run off between the Lalanga, skippered by Lieut. Dutton of the army, and Margaret D, sailed by Lieut. Verner of the navy.

Margaret D led all the way around and on the last lap was 200 yards ahead of Lalanga. Off the beach mark on the homeward stretch, however, the wind died down and Lalanga doubled back on her course to finish 4 minutes and 24 seconds ahead of the Margaret D.

B SERIES

The B series of the R.V.Y.C. was run off Sunday morning. Starting at 10.45, the snipes finished as follows: Ishkoodah, Evans, 11.34.15; Pelican, Moran, 11.36.10; Noname, Congdon, 11.30.00; Dinghies, starting at 10.50, finished: Kismet, Gann, 11.40.00; Pancho, Phyllis Cooke, 11.41.59; Onaway, Warren, 11.45.13; Guillemot, Taylor, 11.45.37.

The course in this race was the inside quadrilateral. Wind was light southeast.

C.N.R. PROMOTIONS

WINNIPEG—Henry Coley, assistant superintendent, sleeping and dining car department, Canadian National Railways, Edmonton, has been transferred to Winnipeg, in the same capacity, and John Frederick Penny, sleeping and dining car agent at Saskatoon, goes to Edmonton as assistant superintendent, C. H. Worby, general superintendent, sleeping and dining car services, announced today.

Mercy Ships Reach Greece

NEW YORK (AP)—Carrying 15,000 tons of grain and nearly 50 tons of medical supplies, the Canadian mercy ships Formosa, Eros and Camelia have docked at a Greek port, the Greek War Relief Association announced Saturday.

Ten automobiles, to be used by Swiss and Swedish Red Cross representatives for distributing the supplies, also were aboard the vessels which sailed from Montreal Aug. 7.

The cargoes were the largest shipments yet made for the relief of famine-stricken Greece, and the first of a monthly schedule of consignments of similar size, the agency reported.

C.P.R. Solicitors

MONTREAL—E. P. Flinto, K.C., vice-president and general counsel, Canadian Pacific Railway Company, announced that, effective Sept. 1, F. G. S. Evans and D. I. McNeill have been appointed assistant general solicitors of the company, the former with office at Montreal and the latter at Winnipeg.

Mr. McNeill, who was located in Montreal for 11 of the 18 years he has been with the company, joined the Canadian Pacific legal staff in 1924 as a student at law in the Calgary offices. In 1930 he was transferred to Montreal as assistant solicitor.

In 1936 he became solicitor at Montreal, a position he held until June, 1939, when he left for Winnipeg to succeed L. J. Reyvart. Mr. Evans, a native of Owen Sound, Ont., has been with the company since 1935. Studying law at Osgoode Hall, Mr. Evans was called to the bar in May, 1923.

His first connection with the Canadian Pacific was in the capacity of transport service representative on special work. On April 1, 1938, he was made solicitor in the law department.

Belgian District Faces Big Fine

LONDON (CP)—A 1,000,000-franc fine has been imposed by the Germans on the Liege district in Belgium because of the slaying of two Resist (Fascist) guards, the Belgian news service reported today.

German authorities closed theatres and cafes and prohibited traffic in the community between 8 p.m. and 5 a.m. The Belgian news agency also reported the Germans had executed Adelin Hargveld, a young Brussels lawyer who was accused of aiding the Allies.

Say Former Bundist Helped Saboteurs

NEW YORK (AP)—Anthony Cramer, accused of aiding some of the eight Nazi saboteurs who landed on the United States east coast, was arraigned in federal court today on a charge of treason and held in default of $50,000 bail.

Cramer, 43-year-old resident of New York, was one of 14 persons arrested on charges of aiding the sabotage experts, all of whom were subsequently convicted by a military commission. Six were executed.

In July it was disclosed that Cramer, former member of the German-American Bund, had been certified as a shipwright at the Brooklyn navy yard, but the Federal Bureau of Investigation said he never actually worked there.

Children's kiddie cars are now being manufactured with all wood wheels to save metal and rubber.

Col. W. Dockrill Dies in Hongkong

Word of the death of Col. Walter Dockrill, well-known in B.C. shipping circles, in Hongkong, has been received by Alex. McDermott of the Ocean Stevedoring Company, through Col. Robert Williams of Vancouver.

Col. Williams, who represents J. J. Moore and Co. in Vancouver, was notified by the Red Cross Society by cable that Col. Dockrill died in Hongkong August 13 last.

Col. Dockrill, in the 1920's, was president of the Empire Stevedoring Company in Vancouver, and was well known in this city.

As Oriental representative of the Canadian Trading Company, Col. Dockrill made his headquarters in Japan, and went to Hongkong after Japan entered the war.

He was a son-in-law of Mrs. E. J. Palmer of this city.

Prince Rupert Berth

WINNIPEG—C. S. Argyle, assistant general storekeeper Canadian National Railways, Winnipeg, has been appointed superintendent of stores, Prince Rupert drydock and shipyard, Prince Rupert. T. W. Gillingwater, regional stores accountant, Winnipeg, becomes acting assistant to the general storekeeper, western lines.

France and Spain Suffer From Floods

MADRID (AP)—A number of villages in northern Spain were evacuated today because of floods.

The Gallego River, which flows into the Ebro at Zaragoza, reached a record height. Many families in Galicia anxiously awaited news of fishermen who were caught at sea by sudden storms Sunday.

(Heavy rains in southern France flooded extensive areas in the vicinity of Argeles, Lourdes and Luz. It was reported by radio broadcasts from occupied France. Extensive grounds in front of the famous grotto of Lourdes were under water.)

Lehrbas Now Colonel

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia (CP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur today promoted his aide, Lt. Col. Lloyd Lehrbas, to a full colonel. The advancement followed Lehrbas' return to headquarters from a mission to the New Guinea battle area. Lehrbas obtained leave from the Associated Press soon after the United States went into the war and joined Gen. MacArthur's staff.

New Commander

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—Maj. D. C. (Ben) Cunningham of Kingston has been appointed officer commanding the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders, his wife here was notified by cable. (Lieut. Col. A. C. Gostling of Winnipeg, commander of the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders, was officially reported killed in action.)

Editors Visit Hospital

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (CP)—Canadian editors, here on a tour of the Dominion's war installations in Britain, today inspected the Canadian army general hospital and were shown over the premises by Col. R. M. Harvey of Midland, Ont.

700 Chinese Dead After Heavy Flood

CHUNGKING (AP)—The worst floods in 50 years in south Kwangsi province had routed 300,000 Chinese from their homes today and inundated 32 districts. About 700 were reported dead and another 60,000 were said to be starving. Some 20,000 were reported living only on grass.

No Price Changes

TORONTO (CP)—Stocks moved within a narrow range today on Toronto exchange and showed practically no net price change at the close. Trading was dull.

Base metal issues were inclined to improve a bit in the final period, small gains appearing for Smelters, Steep Rock, Nickel and Sherritt. In the gold group the tone was a bit stronger for Preston, Madsen and Reno. Miscellaneous industrials posted a few more gains than losses.

Western oils were almost out of the picture. British-American oil traded in light volume, with the price unchanged at 20.

Higher Trend

MONTREAL (CP)—Leading stocks which changed their positions today on the Stock Exchange were mostly higher. A majority in the list boarded were steady and unchanged.

Shawinigan picked up a major fraction in utilities but Brazilian worked back a bit.

C.P.R. was up a minor fraction in the carrier section. Canadian Bronze preferred advanced in industrials and Hamilton Bridge was a little easier.

Trading direction was irregular on the curb market. Home was out in front in western oils.
